

Satellites May Be Launched In East, West

Discoverer and Vanguard Firings Reported Near

Washington — P — Launchings today of satellites from both the west and east coasts appeared likely.

The twin bill of space shoots would be a polar-orbiting Discoverer launching from California's Vandenberg air force base and the first three-in-one Vanguard firing from Florida's Cape Canaveral launching base.

Until yesterday, military and space authorities had declined to say when either of the shoots would be made. Then Roy W. Johnson, director of the advanced research projects agency, said about 4 p.m. that the Discoverer launching would come within 12 hours.

Johnson's statement, made during an address at New Canaan, Conn., brought no confirmation from the Vandenberg base that the firing would be that soon.

However, such a launching of the second Discoverer from the Vandenberg base would be in line with the announced plan to send one up every four or five weeks this year. The first one was launched Feb. 28.

An industry publication, Aviation Daily, said last week the Vanguard firing was set for today. Dr. John P. Hagen, project Vanguard director, said almost a month ago the 3-way satellite would be launched "fairly soon."

Hagen said the satellite

Plan 2 Units For LaCrosse Missiles Use

Washington — P — The army soon will organize its first two battalions for using the LaCrosse missile which will provide atomic fire support to troops on the battlefield.

Purchase of two types of anti-tank missiles from France also has been disclosed by the army.

The surface-to-surface LaCrosse guided missile will provide effective strikes with artillery on difficult targets such as caves and bunker entrances.

Active by June 25 The army said today the 5th Missile battalion, 41st Artillery, and the 5th battalion of the 42nd artillery are scheduled to become active before June 25 at Fort Sill, Okla., to use the LaCrosse. Each battalion will have about 170 officers and men.

The 10-foot LaCrosse, with a range of between 15 and 20 miles, can carry a variety of warheads, including a tactical-size nuclear explosive or a "shaped charge" for penetrating armored defenses.

The weapon has high accuracy at ranges similar to conventional artillery, the army says. The launcher and guidance unit can be mounted on a standard 2½-ton truck and can be transported by air.

Disclosure that the two types of anti-tank missiles are being bought from France was made last night. The army said one type is for penetrating armored defense of the American 7th army in Europe and the other is a later model to be given evaluation tests before production is ordered.

Dulles Postpones Decision After Confering With Ike

Decides to Wait for Findings After Added Observation, Treatment

Washington — P — President Eisenhower conferred for 45 minutes today with acting Sec. of State Dulles. They put off any decision as to Dulles' future official role pending "additional medical observation and treatment."

Eisenhower flew in from Augusta, Ga., this morning and drove immediately to Walter Reed Army hospital to see the secretary.

Afterward, White House Press Sec. James C. Hagerty made the following statement: "The president met this morning at Walter Reed hospital with the secretary of state. They of course discussed the secretary's physical condition. They also discussed matters relating to world affairs."

"The secretary of state has returned to Walter Reed for additional medical observation and treatment. He is expected to remain at the hospital for some days."

"Pending additional medical evaluation there will be no further statement from the president."

No Resignation

Dulles broke off a recuperative period in Florida to return yesterday to the hospital where he previously had spent a month and a half undergoing radiation and other treatment for a recurrent abdominal cancer.

At the time Dulles went to Florida, there was no indication that he would return to the hospital for additional treatment.

Hagerty told reporters he did not know the nature of this new treatment, or whether surgery or more radiation were involved.

He said those are medical questions to be answered by the doctors.

Hagerty was asked whether he could say whether Dulles had submitted a resignation.

"Yes, I can say that," Hagerty replied. "I can say there has been no resignation submitted and I think this statement bears that out."

Allen W. Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency and brother of the secretary of state, arrived at Walter Reed five minutes after the president.

Already with Dulles were his state department aide, Joseph N. Greene, and his secretary, Phyllis Bernau. They had gone to the hospital earlier in the morning. Among other things, they brought with them an electric typewriter.

Back from Florida Eisenhower was accompanied by his chief aide, Wilton B. Parsons, Press Sec. James C. Hagerty and Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, the president's personal physician.

The 71-year-old secretary, a world-renowned figure in diplomatic battles against Russia for six years, re-entered the hospital yesterday afternoon.

Looking haggard and considerably underweight, Dulles cut short his Florida rest in order to undergo a new head to toe checkup to determine what could be done to arrest the cancer.

Dulles returned to Washington only a few hours after the state department said "it is now desirable he have a period of further medical observation."

Many of his worried aides glumly reported that barring a medical miracle Dulles probably would have to lay aside the foreign policy chores he loves.

Eisenhower was understood to be holding off any decision until Dulles' doctors complete a new series of tests.

The president was reported still hopeful that Dulles could serve as special adviser, at least, during the big four for-

Madison Police Kennedy Probably Will Enter Chief Ousted State Presidential Primary

Commission Finds Weatherly Guilty Of Misconduct

Madison — P — Police Chief Bruce Weatherly was found guilty of misconduct and removed from office today by the Madison Police and Fire commission.

The commission said Weatherly was guilty of three of five charges. The vote for his removal was 4-1.

Counsel for Weatherly announced the decision would be appealed to circuit court. Charges grew out of a Jan. 8 accident in which the police car Weatherly was driving crashed into a truck on Madison's East Side.

Find Him Guilty A week-long hearing preceded the commission's decision.

The commission found Weatherly guilty of drinking while on duty; driving while intoxicated and using a city-owned car for unofficial purposes.

Charges dismissed involved suppression of evidence and an alleged effort to have a barman destroy a bar bill.

Weatherly accepted the verdict with almost no display of emotion.

Weatherly took over the chief's office about nine years ago, coming from San Antonio, Texas. His appointment touched off a controversy because of feelings that a man from within the department should have been promoted to the post.

Party Leaders Say Senator Best Candidate to Help State Ticket

Green Bay — Unless there is a drastic change in the present line-up of Democratic presidential hopefuls, Sen. John Kennedy will be a candidate in Wisconsin's presidential primary next April.

As one of the front runners for the 1960 nomination, Kennedy will have to show his voter strength in a primary in at least one Middle West state. His most likely opponent in a Wisconsin test would be Sen. Hubert Humphrey of neighboring Minnesota.

Only in the event that Humphrey's candidacy doesn't get off the ground could Kennedy avoid a primary test in this event, Kennedy could concede the Wisconsin primary to Humphrey as sort of a neighboring favorite son of little consequence in the national picture.

Kennedy looms as no compromise candidate, like Adlai Stevenson or Missouri Sen. Stuart Symington. Thus, he must get into state primaries to keep his drive rolling, and the job now is to pick the primaries Kennedy will announce his decision late this year.

A 3-day tour of Wisconsin last week should offer Kennedy encouragement. He packed in capacity audiences. These included 700 in Janesville and 600 in Appleton, both cities with Republican records, and 800 at a University of Wisconsin talk.

On the practical side, a number of state party leaders, not yet speaking for quotation, said they regard Kennedy as the presidential candi-

Bear Creek Fracas Reveals Lack of Local Law Enforcement

Bear Creek — A fracas at the Fischer cafe early Saturday morning revealed the village is without local law enforcement. But since no permanent damage was done no one seems to care.

Five men, 20 to 23 years old, including a soldier on furlough were the center of the fracas.

Constable Resigned They entered the cafe about 1 a.m. Saturday. Mrs. Charles Fischer, the proprietor's wife, objected to their singing and they were ordered to leave.

A scuffle ensued and while plates and glassware were breaking in the back-ground fire on called the sheriff's department and was told to call the constable.

Louis Christensen, who was reelected constable Tuesday, told Fischer he had resigned his job Friday afternoon and wasn't interested.

Meanwhile back at the cafe the men decided it was time to go, but outside they took umbrage to Mrs. Fischer's criticism and stormed back into the cafe, breaking the glass in the storm door on the way.

This time Fischer figured in the scuffle and Mrs. Fischer came to his rescue by throwing dishes at the quartet. With crockery breaking in the background the sheriff's department again was called.

This time Sheriff Robert Heinrich, who with Patrol-

Judge Schlichting said he would file the writ with the board of circuit judges and request that a new trial judge be appointed for the case.

Gunaca, 35, will continue free under $7,500 bond. He is charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm in the alleged beating of a non-striker at the Kohler company plant July 4, 1954. At the time, Gunaca was a member of the United Auto Workers, whose Local 833 has been on strike at Kohler since April 5, 1954.

Gunaca was represented in court by Atty. David Rahmowitz of Sheboygan, Max Raskin of Milwaukee and D. Charles Marston of Detroit.

Couple and 2 Children Die in Burning Home

All Bodies Found in First-Floor

Bedroom of Farm Home Near Ashland

Ashland — P — A Bayfield county farmer, his wife and two children died early today when fire leveled their 2-story frame home.

The victims were Walter Mackowski, 43, who also worked in an Ashland mill; his wife, Jean, 33; Walter, Jr., 10, and a daughter, Tony Lynn, 5.

Trapped in Bedroom The Mackowski farm is eight miles southwest of here on what is known as old U.S. Highway 63. The home was a pile of smoking debris as the fire raged on.

The fire was spotted by an unidentified motorist who saw the flames from two miles away as he drove on U.S. Highway 2. At the intersection of Highway 63 he stopped at a filling station operated by Ed Sechen, who is also a Bayfield county deputy. Sechen drove to the house, found it enveloped in flames and was unable to help the family. He returned to his station and called the fire department.

The blaze also touched off a large grass fire which spread toward a woodlot. It was brought under control by state forest rangers called out by county authorities.

Slayer of Sister Given 25 Years

Wisconsin Rapids — P — A 19-year-old boy who killed his 14-year-old sister when she threatened to tell their parents he had raped her was sentenced to a maximum term of 25 years in state prison today.

David Rattelle, who admitted killing his sister Bernice last Nov. 1 while his mother was visiting his hospitalized father, was convicted of second degree murder last week after extensive authorities hearing and testimony so that he could be tried as an adult.

Before pronouncing sentence, Circuit Judge Herbert A. Burke noted that young Rattelle had been charged with the degree murder and charged, "I don't think there is any question that he deliberately killed his sister."

However, the court noted, the jury apparently took into consideration his youth and immaturity.

Newest Military Jets Produce Sonic Booms 100 Miles Wide

Las Vegas, Nev. — P — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, air force vice chief of staff, said today some of the newest military jet planes produce sonic booms 100 miles wide.

So far as we know today, there are no technical or scientific solutions to counter this phenomenon," LeMay said at the opening session of a week-long world congress of flight here.

"We also know — from the amount of 'fan' mail we receive on this subject — that these pressure waves, aside from causing considerable apprehension and discomfort, in some cases inflict physical damage to property."

Although he did not elaborate on the matter of the width of the sonic blast, air force spokesmen said the boom produced by some new planes could be heard and felt 50 miles in each direction.

LeMay called for public understanding and acceptance of the new problems associated with supersonic flight and increasing air traffic.

He noted that while there still are relatively few planes capable of long cruises at supersonic speeds, there will be a much greater number — including supersonic jet liners — in the future.

These advances are bound to bring a certain amount of annoyance or discomfort with them," LeMay warned.

He said that in order that people may understand the noise problem, the sonic boom and other problems, "the facts — good and bad — must be presented clearly, and as early as possible."

"It is certainly far better to grow up with the problem, understanding what lies ahead, than to be suddenly confronted with something which is completely incomprehensible to you."

LeMay declared that high airplane speeds and increased aircraft population have crowded together a space to the degree where air speed and traffic control have become the major problems.

Better Traffic Control He said, however, that air collisions can be traced almost exclusively to the cumulative effects of higher speed, higher traffic density, relatively slow human visual scanning rates and man-machine reaction time.

LeMay called for development of means of air traffic control that are accurate and rapid and can be exercised at all times throughout the flight.

He said that if positive control of current traffic at all times was attempted with present equipment, three out of four planes would be unable to leave the ground.

Dalai Lama Confers With India Officials Regarding His Plans

New Delhi — P — The Dalai Lama conferred today with an Indian government representative on his plans for the future and what he wants to tell the world.

Tibet's young fugitive spiritual and temporal leader arrived in Bomdila near the northeast frontier to find special envoy P. N. Menon of the Indian foreign office waiting, along with crowds of Buddhists who jostled each other to pay homage to the god-king.

The Dalai Lama arrived after a 62-mile trip by horseback from Tawang, his first stopping place in the Himalayas after he crossed the frontier. He was expected to rest in Bomdila a few days before going by jeep to the foothills and his first meeting with newsmen since his escape from the red Chinese.

Report Rockefeller Supporters Enlisting Political Amateurs To Help Put Over Candidate

Washington—P—The same off-beat campaigning that landed the 1940 Republican presidential nomination for Wendell L. Willkie apparently is under way for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

Responsible Republican brought to last week's meeting of the GOP national committee here reports that supporters of Rockefeller are seeking to enlist political amateurs—businessmen and others—as Rockefeller backers.

A GOP national committeeman who has participated in several presidential campaigns described the tactics being employed as similar to those which helped put Willkie over. This committeeman said he has personal knowledge that bankers, lawyers, doctors, insurance men and others with influence in their communities are being urged to line up behind Rockefeller. The first outward sign of this cropped up recently with the formation of "California for Rockefeller." This self-styled group of "political greenhorns," is headed by Charles Lewisadder, Los Angeles businessman.

A state chairman who supports vice President Nixon for the nomination said he knew of similar activities elsewhere in behalf of Rockefeller. He predicted Nixon's backers soon will be doing the same kind of campaigning on a wide scale.

It was explained that Rockefeller himself is standing aloof from the activities being carried on by his supporters. He is holding to the line that his only current ambition is to make a good chief executive for his state.

Closest Advisers It was noticeable, however, that the governor lost no time in moving one of his closest advisers, George L. Hinman, into a seat as Republican national committeeman from New York. Hinman will be in a position there to keep close tab on an organization in which a majority of members obviously favor Nixon for the party's 1960 presidential nomination.

Harriman Says FDR Liked to Jab Churchill

Took Pleasure in Telling Briton of Empire's Downfall

New York—P—The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt was "a bit of a sadist" sometimes when he wanted to make Winston Churchill change his mind, says former Gov. Averell Harriman. Harriman also says that Roosevelt "rather enjoyed digging the knife into Churchill."

Talks between Roosevelt and the British prime minister were recalled on a television program yesterday by Harriman, a Democrat who was associated with Roosevelt as a trouble shooter and top-ranking diplomat.

The program marked the fourteenth anniversary of Roosevelt's death.

Harriman said Roosevelt took delight in telling Churchill that the end of the British empire was at hand.

Great Man After calling Roosevelt one of the great men of history, Harriman spoke of the late president's opposition to the British colonialism tradition as represented by the wartime prime minister.

Harriman said: "He (Roosevelt) rather enjoyed the difficulty that Churchill was in because he knew that Churchill was wrong. And I think it is fair to say that he took advantage of him in that respect. But he desperately wanted to use his influence to get Churchill to change his point of view."

Harriman said the late Soviet Dictator Joseph Stalin was "definitely afraid" of Roosevelt because of the president's moral influence in the world and "the strength of Roosevelt."

Harriman said he believes Stalin never really understood Roosevelt.

Pakistan Protests 'Trespassing' of Indian Air Force

Canberra, Australia—P—Pakistan may call on the UN to try to keep Indian air force planes from trespassing over Pakistani soil, foreign Minister Manmohan Cadr said today.

The Pakistani foreign minister told newsmen India had repeatedly violated Pakistan's air space despite protests from Karachi. Pakistani fighters shot down an Indian jet bomber over Pakistan Friday. And the two Indian airmen in the plane bailed out and were injured.

Believe Hunting Knife Weapon in Slaying

Milwaukee—P—Detective Capt. Charles Nowakowski said a hunting knife found Sunday in a concentrated search of southern Ozaukee county probably is the weapon used in the brutal slaying of 6-year-old Ben Wagner.

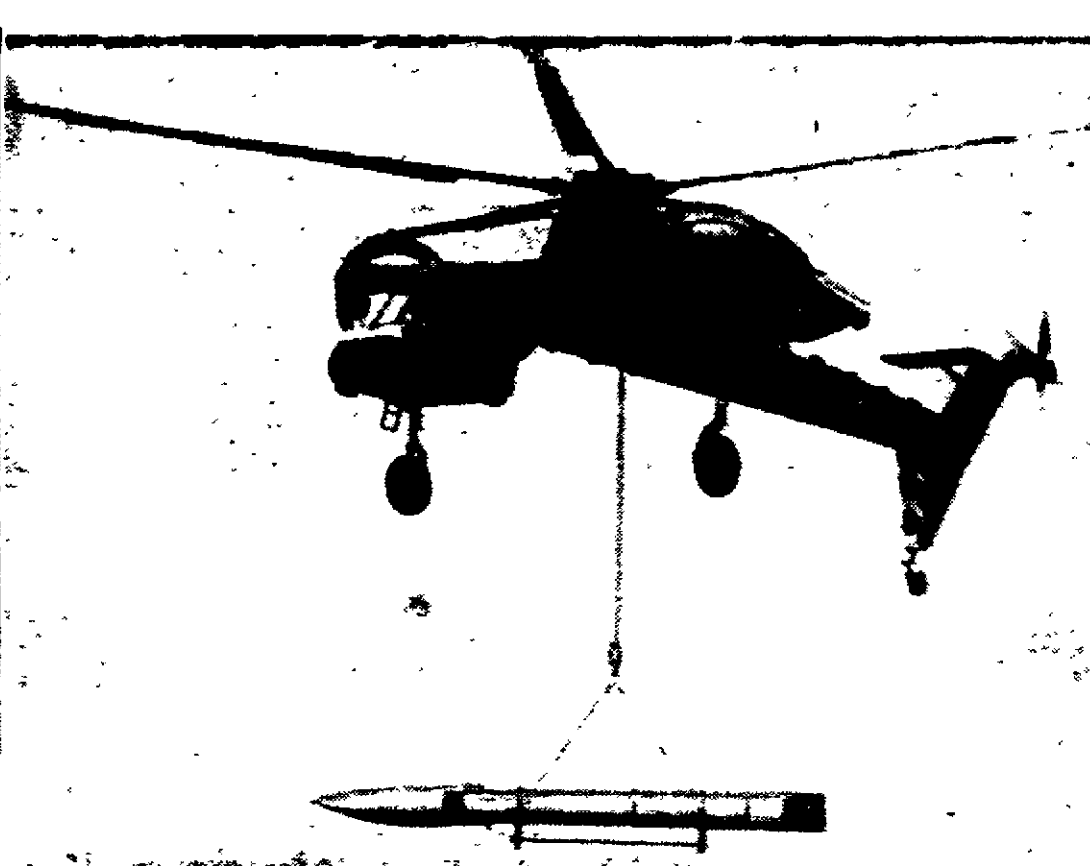

The officer said the knife had no blood stains on it, but added, "In all probability this is the knife that killed Ben Wagner."

Nowakowski said the 4 1/2 inch blade of the knife was the same width as the one the kidnapper used to stab the boy five times. The knife, with an imitation bone handle made of plastic, was found in a ditch about 320 feet from where the lad's body was discovered a week earlier.

Aided Police The knife was found by adult leader Robert Wellstry of Cedarburg as 149 Boy Scouts aided police in a detailed search for a weapon.

Ben was lured into a car Saturday night April 4 while walking to a neighborhood grocery store to buy ice cream. His body was found the next morning in a secluded area in Grafton, 15 miles north of here.

Police also said a waitress at the Smith Brothers Fish Shanty restaurant on Highway 141 in Port Washington told them she remembered a boy that could have been Ben eating with a man even though they were not seated at one of her tables.

Cite Billion Dollar Cost of Adding to U. S. Social Security

Old Age Hospitalization Program Means Tax Hike, Report Says

Washington—P—Addition of old-age hospitalization protection to federal social security benefits would cost at least a billion dollars a year to start, the government estimated today.

The added costs would require at least a one-half of 1 per cent increase in the social security payroll tax. It is now 2 1/2 per cent of the first $4,800 of earnings for both workers and employers, and will rise automatically to 4 1/2 per cent by 1969.

The estimates were contained in a long report by the social security administration filed with the house ways and means committee by Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming.

No Conclusions The report contained no recommendations or conclusions. It was requested by the committee last year after congress voted a 7 per cent increase in social security benefits and a corresponding increase in the tax rate.

Proposals to add federal hospital, nursing home and surgical care to old-age retirement benefits are now pending before the committee, but house leaders have ruled out any action on them before next year or later.

The 117-page study of old-age health benefits was limited to factual information and projections, with these highlights:

1. There are about 15 million persons in the United States 65 or over, and their number is increasing because of medical advances.

2. About 43 per cent, or two out of every five persons on social security retired rolls now have voluntary health protection.

Limited Income 3. Most social security pensioners have a low or limited income, increasing the problem of financing adequate medical care for the aged.

4. Hospital and medical costs are rising. Of social security pensioners hospitalized in 1957, the largest group—about 85 per cent—had medical bills of $1,000 or more.

5. Numerous alternatives to social security health insurance are available—subsidies to private health insurance carriers, government re-insurance of private carriers, direct federal assistance to persons unable to finance their own medical costs, and stimulation of voluntary insurance plans.

Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-RI), chief sponsor of legislative proposals for social security health benefits, said the report confirms the need for federal action.

Haiti Police Halt Funeral Of Politician

Port Au Prince, Haiti—P—Public opinion ran high in Haiti's capital today after police interruption of the funeral of Clement Jumelle, one of President Francois Duvalier's chief opponents.

There were rumors that school strikes might be called.

Jumelle, 42, died Saturday in the home of the Cuban ambassador, where he had taken refuge. His coffin was being borne past thousands to the church yesterday when police stopped the cortege and drove the hearse away.

Police Chief Daniel Beauvoir said later his men had taken the body to Jumelle's boyhood home 90 miles north of Port Au Prince for burial. Beauvoir said services in the capital might have set off demonstrations against the government.

Ill and unconscious with high blood pressure and uremia, Jumelle was taken to the Cuban embassy six days ago. He had been in hiding for months from the police, who killed two of his brothers last August.

Jumelle had served as finance minister under former President Paul E. Magloire. He was defeated in the 1956 presidential race.

Symington to Visit State

Aspirant for Presidency Will Talk in Milwaukee

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—P—Another of the numerous Democratic presidential aspirants will look over the Wisconsin political prospects next month when Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri comes to Milwaukee as the featured speaker at the principal fund-raising event of the Wisconsin Democratic party this year.

That the Missouri senator who has said he doesn't plan to enter the Wisconsin presidential primary next year is a candidate for the party's presidential nomination was expressed by James Magellas, the state party's field organizer.

"There are many people in Wisconsin," I've found, who think he is going to be our nominee next year," said Magellas.

Magellas reported he has assured Symington ample publicity to attract voters here with his personality and viewpoint. Democrats were cheerful

Labor Works for Good of All People, Haberman Says

Never Backed Class Laws, Declares AFL-CIO Leader

The Wisconsin labor movement always has tried to maintain a constructive program for the good of all people. George Haberman, president of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor, AFL-CIO, told the Appleton Federation of Labor Unions Saturday night at Waverly beach.

Haberman was guest of honor at presentation of the Appleton federation's new charter from the national AFL-CIO, delayed more than a year by the local central body's refusal to expel the Teamsters. The Teamsters left the body early this year.

"We have never had a biased opinion, we have never been accused of promulgating class legislation," Haberman declared.

He observed the Appleton federation was one of the few remaining central bodies in the state to become members of the AFL-CIO. It has been four years since the AFL-CIO merger at the national level was not so easy at the local level, he commented.

After two years of meetings, the state merger was effected.

Few in Office

"Perhaps too few laboring people serve on board, committees and take office. They are earning a living and don't have time to public affairs," he said.

"We belong in the legislature—labor does not want to dominate government, all we want is just a few people in legislative bodies, regardless of their political subdivisions, to watch over the taxpayers' interests," Haberman declared.

After all, he commented, it is labor which pays taxes, which makes up the largest numerical group of taxpayers.

Never Oppose Taxes

He commented to Mayor Clarence Mitchell, who acted as master of ceremonies, that he would never find the labor movement in opposition to a local tax structure, if the need can be proved. Our people will pay without question.

"Numerically the largest, working people need the services of government.

"Who pays for schools? It's the guy in overalls, all the little people," Haberman declared.

People have asked, the state president observed, where the line of demarcation in the rising cost of labor is. "There isn't any line. We are never satisfied, we want more and more as Samuel Gompers, AFL founder, once said," Haberman declared.

Higher Wages

"There is nothing wrong with higher wages—the benefits to one segment benefit all other segments. Great beneficiaries are the people directly paid by labor. When labor's wages go up, in-

4 Fires Burn Nearly 40 Acres Of Farm Land

Waupaca Ranger Reports Damage In Weekend Blazes

Waupaca — Nearly 40 acres of grass and woodlands were burned over in four fires in the county during the weekend, Sid Miller, county forest ranger, reported today.

The largest blaze covered 35 acres of pasture land and some scattered pines on the Russell May farm, three miles east of Marion. The fire was spotted from the Tigerton tower about 11:25 a.m. Sunday.

The ranger, the Marion fire department and neighbors took 2 1/2 hours to bring the fire under control. It was started from sparks from a tractor May was using to hound maple sap out of the woods.

Buildings were threatened as an acre of grassland burned on the Floyd Salzman farm, three miles northeast of Clintonville, about 3:45 p.m. Sunday. The blaze started when a debris fire tended by the Salzman children went out of control. The Clintonville fire department helped fight the fire.

An acre of young pines and balsams was burned over on the Milo Thoe farm, about five miles north of Iola. Saturday morning when a rubbish fire tended by Thoe got out of control.

The Clintonville fire department helped extinguish a blaze that burned over an acre of abandoned farm land on the Etheridge farm, four miles northwest of Clintonville, about 1:30 p.m. Saturday. A mail with OLD AMERICAN leaf fire tended by a son of the owner was blamed.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months.

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.* Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Swing King Goodman Starts Silver Jubilee

'Licorice Stick' Artist Says
Country Has Grown Up Musically

BY HAL BOYLE
New York — "The country has grown up musically," said the king.
The king — "King of Swing" — is Benny Goodman, the first man in history to blow a million dollars out of a "licorice stick."
The great clarinetist, who will be 50 next month, is celebrating his silver jubilee as a bandleader this year.
Looking back over a crowded quarter of a century, Goodman said:

"Musical taste hasn't changed so much as you might think. Classical music is bigger than it ever was. Jazz—or swing—is too. Mood music is bigger than ever. The variety and quantity of music is simply unbelievable. And it is going to get even bigger."
Benny himself was one of the greatest factors in taking jazz out of the gin mill and into the concert hall and worldwide acceptance as a musical art form. He took a naked jungle rhythm and put it into a dress suit. He was the first to bring to it a classic precision. He civilized it.

Hard, Slow Climb
He came up the old-fashioned way — the hard, slow climb. Benny was eighth in a family of 11 children. His father was an immigrant tailor. At 9 he started playing with two brothers on instruments borrowed from a Chicago synagogue. His biggest brother got the tuba. Another older brother got the trumpet.

"The only thing left for me was the clarinet," he recalled. "If I had been 20 pounds heavier and two inches taller, perhaps I'd be playing a tuba or trumpet today."
At 10 Benny made his first public appearance, an imitation of Ted Lewis playing "When My Baby Smiles at Me."
For years he traveled the country playing with many bands, maturing his own style. It was a footloose time. Meals were sometimes hard to come by. Benny remembers filching milk bottles from Manhattan doorsteps with the late Glenn Miller.

But somewhere along the way the boy with the promising talent turned into a man of authentic genius, a man with an almost terrifying dedication to his music.
Started Band in 1934
He started his own band in 1934. The formidable look he showed up late or blew a sour note led him to be known as "The Eye," "The Ray."

In a year he and his band were on top. In 1938 his concert in Carnegie hall became a landmark in the history of jazz.
Over the years his band grossed between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000. There are between 1,500 and 2,000 Goodman recordings and some 50 million discs featuring him or bands or combos have been sold.

Five and Twenty black clarinets serve as candleholders on a special cake dished up for the celebration of Benny Goodman's 25th year as a bandleader at 21 club in New York. Helping "King of Swing" Goodman cut the cake are three of his vocalists, past and present. Donna Musgrove, left, his current singer; Peggy Lee, whom he discovered in the 1940s, and right, Helen Ward, first vocalist with the band in 1934.

Behind his success is a single-minded drive to do something different—and to do it perfectly.

"A man has to know what he wants to do, and then try to become classic at it," said Benny. "The public used to think of musicians as irresponsible, and music as a precarious field."
"But music isn't so precarious. Look at some of the people who have lasted in it—Ella Fitzgerald, Peggy Lee, Lionel Hampton, Harry James, Guy Lombardo, Gene Krupa. And it's easy to name a lot more."
Like most pros, Goodman doesn't have a favorite tune. But here are his nominations for the five greatest jazz numbers.

"Honeydew Rose," "The One O'Clock Jump," "Take the A Train," "Stomping at the Savoy," and "King Porter's Stomp."

Frank Lloyd Wright: An Individualist

In this age of pension plans, unemployment compensation, farmers' parities and social security the life of the late Frank Lloyd Wright stands like a beacon.

The modern-day quest for group security these terms bring to mind were foreign to Wisconsin's genius of architecture. One of history's most creative personalities, Wright was the antithesis of group-thinking, of socialism and communism's emphasis on the state rather than the individual.

Of all the millions of words that have been spoken and written about Wright in the several days since his death, these, by Gov. Gaylord Nelson are some of the most meaningful and succinct:

"Wright was more than a great artist, more than an inspiration to an entire half century of younger architects. He was a symbol of the kind of spirited individualists that has made the United States a great nation."

Spirited individualists — the Lincolns, the Rockefellers, the Col. Robert McCormicks — are vanishing from the American scene. Had Frank Lloyd Wright lived in another age and followed another calling he might have been a Sir Isaac Newton, a Columbus. He had genius and courage and the world was strictly his oyster.

His more than 700 buildings and the modernization they effected in American architecture shout that individualism isn't dead. Among the most significant milestones in his great career was the construction in the early 1920s of Tokyo's Imperial hotel, which has survived earthquakes which levelled other structures.

He had the "last laugh" on a group he had earlier scorned — the American Institute of Architects — when that body voted him its coveted gold medal in 1949.

In his final years Wright kept his name before the public by proposing a mile-high skyscraper for Chicago and a multi-million dollar civic auditorium in Madison. The latter structure will be the first major public building by Wright in Wisconsin.

As it is with many men of great accomplishment, Wright was a supreme egotist. Unfortunately, this egomania kept the man from being an even greater American hero. Wright felt unbound by the conventions of his society and his marital problems brought much unfavorable publicity. But Frank Lloyd Wright wasn't the first, nor will he be the last, great artist with feet of clay.

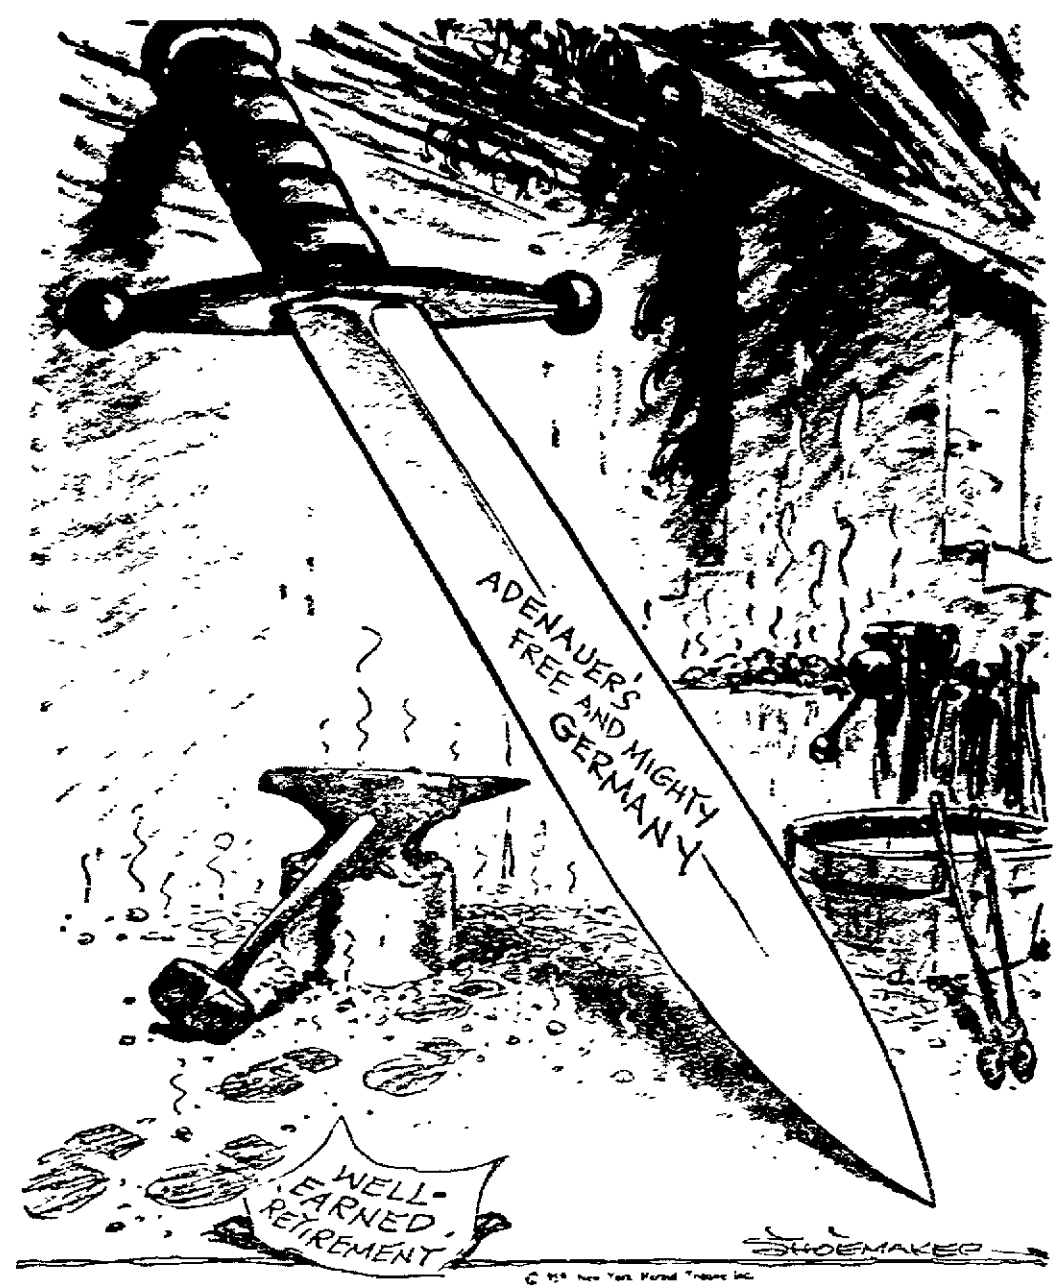

At times Wright pontificated while reporters' pencils scribbled. But, this is a privilege of the very successful.

Born the son of a minister on a Richland county farm, Wright came, saw and conquered his environment with his high-voltage blend of individualism, courage and technical brilliance.

Only because America is free and believes in the divine qualities of the individual was this possible. As Wright, himself, once said:

"Democracy is the only method of organized government that leaves the creative faculty of man and his capacity for production the necessary freedom to grow."

A fitting epitaph.

Asks Full Information on Merits
Of Sales Tax vs. Withholding

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I am beginning to wonder if the working man of today isn't grossly underestimated by the Republican party of this state and its consultants.

Could it be possible the editor of the Appleton Post-Crescent in writing "Gov. Nelson Stumbles" believes he is convincing anyone of anything?

Glib talk won't convince anyone very easily. The easy way to convince anyone is with figures. For example, what would an average wage earner with an average family pay under a sales tax, as compared with income or withholding tax, reaping the same revenue as Wisconsin did for 1957?

Give this figure on a 100 per cent sales tax basis showing a savings under sales tax and the big money party will have another voter behind them.

Give the honest figure and the Democrats will have proved their point.

Under withholding or income tax a wage earner is taxed on his earnings while under sales tax he is taxed only on what he spends. The average family spends all their earnings. Therefore he would be taxed on almost all his wages, while the high income bracket wouldn't pay any tax on savings investments or what have you.

The lowest income bracket will show the sharpest increase, and the highest bracket gets a cut.

Print this along with the figures I ask for and I'll bet two hundred of them will be when I read it.

Hi-Fi Calls Crows

Idabel, Okla. — P— Herber Derryberry is in the crow killing business in a big way. He bought a hi-fi battery operated record player and some crow call records. He can call crows from several miles away. Unless he kills 35 or 40 a day he does not consider it much of a stunt.

Auto-Grade
Index Proves
To Be Reliable

Charleston (W. Va.) Daily Mail

In the search for what is wrong with American education it may be that its critics have overlooked the biggest factor of all — the automobile. At least that is the suggestion of William Condit, vice-principal of Belmont High in Los Angeles, who has looked into the subject pretty thoroughly. In the usual survey he found the following:

That not a single straight-A student owned a car.

That only 15 per cent of the B students did.

That 41 per cent of the C students drove their own.

That 71 per cent of the D students were fully motorized, and

That among the students who were failing, a spectacular 83 per cent speed about in high style and abysmal ignorance.

This isn't to say, we take it, that there is anything in the automobile itself to inhibit study, but the correlation, as the statisticians would put it, is pretty conclusive.

What Is Important to Voters?

In the village of Iola in Waupaca county more voters turned out for the spring election than for the last presidential election. The question before the people was whether to let the four beer taverns in the village sell liquor as well as beer. The proposal was defeated 257 to 224.

In the city of Green Bay only half of the registered voters went to the polls to vote for a mayor, a justice of the supreme court and for aldermen in half of the wards.

Only a little more than one-fourth of the registered voters in the state turned out to vote on the question of electing a supreme court justice.

It is easy to see from this record what the people consider important. We are sure if the liquor question was up in Appleton voters would respond percentage wise as they did in Iola. Perhaps the same is true for the entire state.

We do not contend that the liquor question is not important. It is important and everybody in Iola was aware of it. The wets were out in full strength as were the dries. And that is the way it should be but of course such interest should not be confined to local questions.

Thousands of people in Wisconsin who failed to go to the polls on election day will have many questions of great importance decided for them during the next ten years by the judge who was elected Tuesday. Eighty-four of the voters who went to the polls in Iola neglected to vote for the supreme court justice. Those who failed helped to decide the liquor question but they left many decisions of equal importance to a court which they had no part in selecting.

The biggest question of government would be solved if some way could be found to generate the same interest in the selection of our officials that we have in such matters as the liquor question.

Iraq Turns Red

The communist near-coup in Iraq is a picture of the time-tested methods of reds. Short of complete victory so far, it nevertheless has moved tremendously in nine months toward establishing a foothold for the Russians in the Middle East. The question is whether the Arab temperament and drive toward power will upset the red bandwagon.

The communists emerged from the revolt against King Feisal and his strong man, Nuri ad Said, as a well organized, dedicated group. Jailed and oppressed for years, they also had the abject poverty of the Iraqi peasant for support and the new premier's sudden change in the occupants of Iraqi jails.

Premier Abdul Kassem seemed to be a fine dupe for their purposes. Probably no red himself, he has gone along with their plans and has helped to load the government of Iraq with out and out communists or spouters of the official line. Kassem is added to the usual point of hysteria by the people and is dedicated as an ascetic to his chosen role of leader. He plotted, as a supposedly faithful follower of King Feisal, for 24 years for his finally successful revolt. According to a British officer who knew him at an English army officers school long ago, he is "sincere, hard-working, completely unbalanced."

Today the majority control of Iraq is communist. The newspapers are all red, the radio broadcasts blare the party pronouncements, the trials in the people's court are a mockery of justice, communist style. The reds have gained control of labor unions, student groups, university faculties and the erratic and violent emotions of the mobs.

Kassem has yielded to pressures to arm the people's resistance militia probably because his faith in the army has dimmed since the abortive revolt last month. Russia has not pushed to swallow up the oil market since it would find this almost impossible. If Iraq becomes a complete Russian satellite, the other Arab nations which have with the exception of Nasser's Egypt, taken a lukewarm attitude toward the dancer of Iraq's red control may swing violently away from Russia. Nasser has awakened to the danger in his prestige and other nations in the Arab sphere which value their independence.

But Iraq is now chaos. The big question is whether Kassem or the reds will find their alliance too calling first and make the attempt to eliminate the other.

Wyingaard

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — The day is soon to arrive when local public officials as well as those of the state capitol would be wise to pin to their bulletin boards and insert in their instructions to their subordinates the terms of p respective Section 11.90 of the Wisconsin statutes, relating to open meetings of governmental bodies and agencies.

The bill to guarantee fully opened deliberations of Wisconsin governmental agencies and officers has swept through the assembly with only a single dissenting vote — which might well have been a whimsical dissent — and is almost sure to get an equally enthusiastic backing in the state senate during the next fortnight.

It sets up a new section of Wisconsin state law with a declaration of public policy as follows:

"In recognition of the fact that a representative government of the American type is dependent upon an informed electorate, it is declared to be the policy of the state that the public is entitled to the fullest and most complete information regarding the affairs of government as is compatible with the conduct of governmental affairs and the transaction of governmental business."

ernment as such are generally good in this regard.

But the effect of an explicit statute on the subject will be beneficial, nevertheless. There are occasional temptations to secrecy, and there also are violations, sometimes unconscious, by men and women unaccustomed to working under public scrutiny and, perhaps, not always familiar with the democratic concepts upon which their offices rest.

THE EXCEPTIONS

Such exceptions to the democratic theory as this reporter has sometimes found tend to occur in the obscure agencies, where the presence of a newspaper reporter, for example, is rare and where the public officials become uncomfortable when one turns up unexpectedly.

This plainly worded and unequivocal statute will be a useful warning to such relatively innocent transgressors that they are acting in a public capacity, and that the public has a right to see what is going on.

I recall the time that I served for a couple of years on a rural district school board that was headed by a venerable and gracious lady who had served in her office so long that she tended to have a proprietary attitude about the board. Members always met at her call in the kitchen of her farm home, in strict privacy.

Her husband happened to be a member of the town board and during a meeting would tentatively push his head through the kitchen door, only to be sent away.

"This is school business," the lady of the house would say. "It's none of your affair."

Smokers Victims of Tax Hike

From The Dubuque Telegraph

The legislature is making its first motions in the direction of tax revision — upwards, that is. The house has approved a recent jump per package for cigarettes. Some legislators objected that the taxes are costing more than the cigarettes themselves, including a federal tax, and that we should remember the Boston Tea Party.

But the smokers will shell out the difference, we suspect, though the grumbling will increase. The house made it a little easier for taxpayers to get their cigarettes by lowering the federal excise tax from 21 to 17. Two reasons given for the action: (1) boys who are old enough to be drafted into the army are old enough to buy cigarettes; and (2) they buy them anyway.

The house was dealing with a bill to recommend a 10 per cent increase in the cigarette tax. But the governor had vetoed it with a second veto — on the income or corporation tax. If and when the house gets around to that proposition, we suspect a lot more resistance will be shown than put up by the smokers.

Peanut Talked Up in Congressional Halls

From The Congressional Record

Mr. Speaker, the peanut is more closely associated with fun and pure enjoyment than any other crop.

It is as American as baseball.

What would a circus be without a peanut vendor?

The peanut is a symbol of America at play — with children and grownups alike. It tempts the palate. It gives us energy. It is a solid food on our table. It is the constant companion of good appetite and good humor everywhere.

Versatility vies with taste to give the peanut its standing not only in America but throughout the world.

Its flavor is beyond challenge in the crunchy whole strained and aged peanuts.

The oil is a ... because it tastes so good. It has many other attributes. It is the base for many condiments, ... and ...

I am told that the energy value of one pound of peanuts equals four pounds of beef steak, or 21 pounds of cheese, or 10 quarts of milk, or 33 eggs.

Mr. Speaker, it is fitting that we should be reminded occasionally of these things so often overlooked, but which mean so much in our daily lives.

Peanuts are found on every continent and in almost every country where climatic conditions are suitable for their cultivation. They are a major source of food throughout the world.

Diplomacy Calls For More Dollars

England Declines as Power Balance Shifts to Germany

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE
Washington — A great challenge to American statesmanship, lying even beyond all Berlin crisis solutions, is rising in distant view.

No solution over Germany can be good if it leaves the western alliance less strong, less united. And it is increasingly clear that allied unity cannot be long maintained without revolutionary changes in western world trade policies. If armies must march on their stomachs, so must nations. And the free nations cannot march in useful comradeship until we make truly enlightened bread-and-butter arrangements, that will remove the ever-present prospect of economic cold wars within the west itself.

Indeed, the western allies are divided now by more than their differences over the best political and military approach to make to the Russians at the prospective summit conference. The United States is alone in its 100 per cent devotion to reunification of Germany as the absolute top "must." This is conceded in official quarters here. (We are so adamant because we believe that without reunification sooner or later the big war will come.)

True, the West Germans are for reunification — but really only for a kind. They have no wish to be dumped into a common German sea in which East Germany, with its hated Prussian tradition and its long domination in Soviet Communism, might control the common tide. The West Germans want reunification only if it will not submerge the civilized structure they have so painfully raised.

The French are far more concerned in not weakening the west's military posture in Europe by the withdrawal of a single infantryman than in only Germany reunification.

And the British, who are relatively the closest to our position here, are not by a long way so desperately devoted to reunification. There are two good reasons. Britain in all the west suffered more and longer from German militarism in World War II. And the British, the historic world traders, are increasingly hard hit to make trade ends meet.

Continental Europe, and West Germany in particular, are flourishing. Incredibly, West Germany has now passed Britain in total exports. This is not an easy thing for a bloodily drained ally to take from a country that helped wreck the British economy in war and has since been brought to trade eminence by the generosity of those she so savagely fought.

Adenauer's Control
All this explains the obvious worsening in British-German relations that now finds old Konrad Adenauer speaking of Britain with open bitterness. And matters are not being improved by suggestions that K. Adenauer has no intention of relaxing his control in kicking himself upstairs from the chancellorship to the presidency of West Germany.

A Germany reunited by whatever means might soon put the British in an even worse competitive world trade relationship. To ask them to accept reunification as the highest allied aim is to ask them to accept again, as repeatedly they have done for a decade, a disproportionate sacrifice in the service of high western policy.

Thus, two enormous facts of life press against our insistence that reunification must be the indispensable. The first, the memories of those who suffered from the old Germany, is beyond help. But we can do something about the second. Our statesman can find a way not endlessly to put British economic life under handicap from the powerful new Germany we have in mind.

Help Economically
Military, the western alliance is one for all and all for one; there is an assured helping hand from the strong to the weaker. But no Berlin politico-military accommodation can properly alter the vast postwar change in the economic balance of power in Europe. It is this balance, which must be redressed by the economical helping hand. If we are to maintain the military balance of power that alone can give us some long-term safety from the Russians.

100 Honor Combined Locks Pastor on 45th Anniversary

Combined Locks — Over 100 parishioners attended an anniversary party for the Rev. John DeWild, pastor of St. Paul's Catholic church, at the grade school Sunday night.

Father DeWild marks 45 years as a priest today. He has spent 34 of those years as pastor of the Locks parish. He is the oldest priest in the Green Bay diocese still running his own parish.

Members of the Altar society arranged for the celebration. A gold watch was presented to Father DeWild.

Edward Kamps served as the master of ceremonies. Special guests included priests from churches in the neighboring area.

Relates Experiences — When introduced Father DeWild said "To speak is silver and not to is golden so I'll just say thank you." However, he went on to recall some of the experiences he has had while serving the people of the parish.

"Despite what is heard and said today," Father DeWild said, "the world is a better place to live in now than it was 40 years ago. People are educated more and the standard of living is much improved."

Guest speaker was the Rev. Emil J. Schmitt of Sacred Heart parish, Appleton. Father Schmitt traced the steps Father DeWild followed during his 45 years as a priest and noted several humorous incidents he and Father DeWild enjoyed together.

Martins Find Feed, Weather Unpleasant

BY ED VAN BERKEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Kaukauna — George Greenwood, 205 W. Fifth street, Kaukauna's expert on the purple martin, feels the graceful bird has made a mistake and arrived in the Fox Cities a little too early this year.

Greenwood, who has been studying habits of the birds for many years, notes cold weather and lack of food as a threat to those now perched on coops and wires throughout the city.

The birds arrived April 3 and lack of insects has hurt them considerably. Martins feed on the wing thus it is impossible to provide food for them. Greenwood recalls a time in 1927 when the birds died by the thousands in Manitowoc as fog and cold weather hit for a 2-week spell thus leading to starvation for the martins.

Not Nesting

Greenwood said the air was full of insects one day since the martins arrived and the birds seemed to have gorged themselves with food at that time. They can go about a week without food, estimates Greenwood.

Cold weather limits their nesting urge thus they just huddle on coops, doing little flying or searching for nesting materials. This gives sparrows and starlings, unwelcome tenants in martin coops, a wonderful opportunity to begin nesting and the coop owner has to chase the unwelcome birds continually.

Greenwood has seven martin coops on the lawn near his home, erecting them each spring when the scout bird arrives and perches on the wire outside his home. Through contact with many other people, Greenwood has encouraged others to erect coops and estimates over 55 coops in the city today. He makes it a point to drive about the city every few days to see how the birds are faring in other areas.

Strict control of starling and sparrow intruders must be enforced if purple martins are to remain in a coop, notes Greenwood, as the other birds move in and take over rapidly.

Too Cold to Fly and Lack of insects make life miserable for the purple martins as they huddle on coops and wires at the George Greenwood home, Kaukauna. The birds arrived April 3 and have found Wisconsin spring late in arriving. The birds feed on the wing and many face starvation if warm weather does not arrive to hatch the insect population.

Academy Royale Young Ballerinas Seen as U.S. 'Secret' Weapons Against Soviet

Palm Beach, Fla. — A form of ballet which the general public can understand, and which gives an opportunity to the wonderful, fresh talent of American youngsters.

The frames should be simple, and they can be pen-ny-wise ready — made of old ones, in natural or stained wood, gilt or black. Your Problems Male Suffrage in Vogue; Court Says Man Can Spank Wife

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: At last the tide is turning. I never thought it would happen in my lifetime. Male superiority finally is recognized! The turning point came in the decision of the Iowa Supreme court that a husband can spank his wife Ann Landers if the wife needs it and no cruelty is involved.

Ever since women got the vote in this country they've been crowding men out of jobs and denying them their rightful place as head of the house. Women have donned blue jeans and overalls and handed their husbands ruffled aprons and orders to "feed the baby, fix dinner, do the dishes and carry out the trash."

Iowa is going to have a host of red-faced wives when they discover the whip-hand is now possessed by the male. Let's hope the male responds by days later when I discovered they had put a picture of their children in the frame, and our portrait was face-down — underneath.

Dear Petruchio: I have not caught up with this alleged ruling but if it's true that the supreme court of Iowa has condoned wife-spanking, I'm going to disclaim Iowa as my native state and ask Illinois or Minnesota to adopt me.

A ruling that would permit wife-spanking opens a whole new field for cruel and sadistic men. Just where does spanking end, and beating begin? And who is to decide if she "needs it"?

A husband who would spank his wife places her in the category of a child. A wife who would tolerate such indignity admits she's an adolescent who longs to be punished by "Papa". Such a woman should never have married. She should have stayed at home and played with her dolls.

DEAR ANN: This is a touchy one. Can you help? Our son's wife has several pictures of her family scattered throughout the house. I thought it would be nice if they had a picture of my husband and me. We went to a photographic studio and spent quite a lot of money to have a portrait made. We presented it to them in a lovely frame.

Imagine my shock several

DEAR ANN: We are two 13-year-old girls who did a foolish thing and are now sorry. How can we make up for it?

Our English teacher was absent from school for several days. We found out she was sick with virus flu. We looked up her number in the phone book and called her, not to talk — just to bother her.

We did this for five days. One night we phoned 11 times. After she'd say "Hello," we'd ask if it was the dog pound, or Duffy's Tavern or some other silly question.

Now that she's back we feel like criminals. We think she knows it was us, and we feel crummy. Should we confess or hope she doesn't know, and let the matter drop? — The Dirty Dogs

DEAR DOGS: Confess and get it off your mind and conscience. Telephone games are for 3-year-olds and should be played with dime-store toy phones only.

18th Century Parisian Circus Theme of Gala Waldorf-Astoria Ball

New York. — Rain-drip Colbert, Jayne Meadows, Walped fitfully on the dark, de-ter Slezak and Charles Boyer, certed streets of Manhattan. Miss Crain, wearing an em-early Saturday morning, but was particularly impressed with the tent effect. "It's so gay throng dancing under a make - believe circus tent in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria.

Beautiful women and weal-ty men frolicked at one of the dazzling events of the New York social season—the April in Paris ball.

About 1,000 of them, from both sides of the Atlantic, paid $150 each for admission to the spectacular charity affair, which benefits French-American charitable and cultural organizations.

There was a dinner with a choice of 10 wines and champagnes, a miniature circus with Marlene Dietrich wielding the whip as ringmaster, dancing until dawn to the music of two orchestras, and a showing of the latest Paris fashions.

The theme of the ball was "A Paris Circus of the 18th Century." The colors for the ball were red, yellow and blue, and they were carried out throughout the decorations—even to the velvet leotards worn by the models in circus "jester" costumes, who displayed such luxurious fur wraps as a full length white mink coat.

Miss Dietrich presided over a circus in miniature, with acrobats on rolling globes, clowns, a dog and pony act, jugglers, a trapeze artist, and trained chimpanzees.

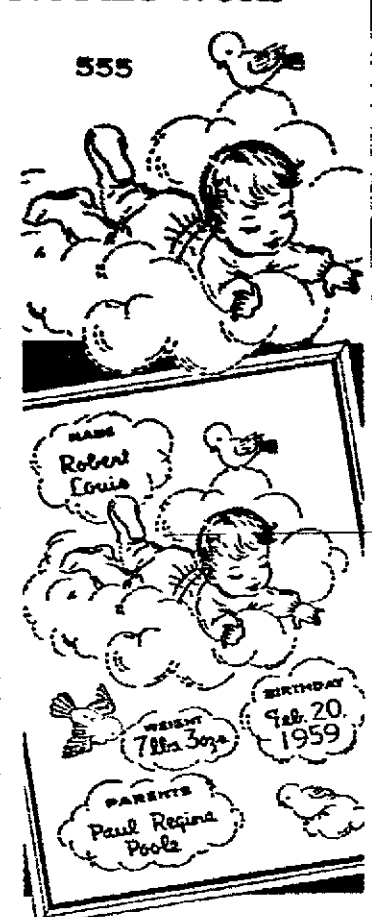

Those attending could buy raffle tickets—$100 apiece—on an $8,500 "blue orchid" mink coat, a cellar (25 cases) of French wines, and an assortment of automobiles.

The guest list was studded with familiar names from the arts, business, and diplomacy.

Elsa Maxwell was in charge of arrangements. The duke and duchess of Windsor attended, as did Hollywood stars, Joan Crawford, Claudette Colbert, and Jeanne Crain.

The guests were promised a breakfast prepared by Miss

South reached a four-heart contract by straightforward bidding, with the opponents silent throughout, and West struck the best blow possible for his side by opening a club. East captured dummy's king, cashed the club queen, and then shifted to the jack of diamonds.

At this stage it is fair to say that about 90 declarers out of every 100 would put in the diamond queen, figuring that the finesse was vital to the success of the contract. Obviously, however, they would be doomed to disappointment. West would take the trick and return diamond five, and at the end declarer would be left high and dry with another diamond loser.

The actual declarer's technique was considerably better. He did not surrender his chance of finding the diamond king on-side, but he worked out a combination shot.

He took the diamond jack with the ace, cashed dummy's top spades, drew the adverse trumps, and then ruffed his good spade queen in first diamond with the ace.

Now he led a diamond from the table, and played the ten, any purpose, because this South still could have put on the queen (playing East for the king if he had so chosen. But South didn't choose to ly.

Five Tippy Drivers Face Court Action

Three Men Arrested in Waupaca Within 4-Hour Period

Five drunken drivers, three of them arrested within a 4-hour period Friday night and Saturday morning in Waupaca county, have faced court action.

Before Justice of the Peace George Whalen, Waupaca, on Saturday morning were James J. Dorkowski, 35, route 3, Waupaca; Orin L. Loken, route 2, Iola, and Melvin A. Wilde, 30, route 1, Waupaca. All pleaded guilty.

In addition, Eugene F. O'Connell, 29, route 1, Menasha and David E. Laux, 27, of 319 1/2 N. Division street, Appleton, went before Acting Municipal Judge Stanley A. Staidl today.

Dorkowski was committed to the county jail for 60 days when he was unable to pay a $150 fine. He was arrested at his home at 1:30 a. m. Saturday after state police were told his car was involved in an accident in Waupaca. He admitted knowledge of the accident when he appeared in court but said he did not know the name of the other driver. The state patrol is investigating.

Loken was fined $100. He was arrested about 1:55 a. m. Saturday by the state patrol when his erratic driving on State street in Waupaca was noticed. The patrol said he attracted attention to his condition by sounding his car horn. He tested 17 on the breathalyzer. A reading of .15 as considered evidence of drunkenness.

Wilde was committed to the county jail for 45 days when he was unable to pay a $100 fine. He was arrested about 9:45 p. m. Friday on Churchill street, Waupaca, when his erratic driving was noticed by the state patrol. He tested .15 on the breathalyzer.

O'Connell was arrested after he drove his car into a snowbank about 10:25 p. m. March 20 in the 1200 block of E. Calumet street. He was unable to take the drunkometer test, city police said.

O'Connell, who has been in jail since his arrest was sentenced to 60 days in jail on the drunken driving charge and 30 days for driving after his license was revoked by Acting Municipal Judge Stanley A. Staidl.

O'Connell's driver's license was first revoked March 20, 1958, for drunken driving.

Laux was arrested about 1:30 a. m. Tuesday after his car, westbound on Highway 96 east of French road, knocked down two mail boxes, hit the drunkometer test.

Former Residents

Sauberlich Family Returns From Indonesia; Travel Round World

"Around the World in 18 Months" would be an apt paraphrase for the completed journey and over-a-year living in Indonesia of former Appleton and Waupaca residents, Dr. and Mrs. Howerde Sauberlich, and their two youngsters.

Appleton-born Dr. Sauberlich was assigned to Indonesia in 1957 as a member of the University of Kentucky team of scientists and educators under the state department's international cooperation administration program to help underdeveloped countries. His phase of work ended Feb. 1 and it was with a tinge of regret that the family left for home.

On the way out to Indonesia, the family traveled by way of Alaska, Japan, Philippine islands and Singapore. It was not just a sightseeing vacation trip because Dr. Sauberlich spent most of his time observing agricultural programs and conditions in these countries.

The return trip to the United States was made through Southeast Asia, Africa, the Middle East and Europe with the family traveling through a total of 30 countries.

Last week was spent with families and friends in the Appleton and Waupaca area before leaving for Ames, Iowa, where Dr. Sauberlich will teach animal husbandry and do research work in food technology at Iowa State college.

He is the son of Mrs. George Sauberlich, route 2, Appleton, and Mrs. Sauberlich is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cartwright, Waupaca. The couple's two children are Melissa Kay, 9, and Howerde II, 3.

Dr. Sauberlich graduated from Appleton High school in 1935, received his bachelor of arts degree from Lawrence college in 1944, and took his master's and doctorate work at the University of Wisconsin in the fields of biochemistry and medical science, graduating in 1948. He taught at the Alabama Polytechnic institute nine years before leaving for Indonesia.

Attached to the University of Indonesia in Bongor, Dr. Sauberlich had a varied job that included teaching and field work. He taught microbiology and researched in animal nutrition.

He helped to train and develop Indonesian personnel in the university's educational program, spent many days in the field with native farmers to learn their problems and needs. His duties also included personal assistance to Indonesian students working for doctorates at the university in agricultural and allied fields.

"We hope to go back to visit Indonesia some day," Dr. Sauberlich said. "The people are so very friendly, the country is beautiful and we soon came to love the place as home. We made many friends whom we want to see again."

Seek $1,500,000 For Expansion of UWM Facilities

Milwaukee — University of Wisconsin regents Saturday recommended a $1,500,000 appropriation to buy property in order to expand UW-Milwaukee facilities.

George Watson, state superintendent of public instruction, said without the additional development of UWM would have to be reexamined and enrollment might be curtailed below the current 5,100 students. The regents asked the state building commission to supply the funds to purchase 84 acres adjoining UWM. The property, including several buildings, is owned by Milwaukee-Downer seminary.

The regents accepted gifts and grants totaling $1,617,347, including $625,000 from the Ford foundation for school improvement research and $619,781 from the National Institutes of Health.

Richard Rogers, Song Writer, at Opening of Famous 'Babes in Arms'

BY DOROTHY ROE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

It's not every composer who can see two generations at 17. "I've been writing them of stagestruck girls use his for 40 years, and most of songs as a springboard to them are still being sung and stardom.

"It's a strange feeling." The current revival of says Richard Rogers, who "Babes in Arms" goes from has composed more than 1,000 hit tunes, first in collaboration with the late Lorenz Olsen; Camden, N.J.; West-Hart, later with his current partner, Oscar Hammerstein II.

He is in Palm Beach, Fla., watching the opening of the 1959 version of "Babes in Arms," the musical which first opened April 14, 1937, with music by Rogers and Hart.

The star of the first show was Mitzi Green, then a 16-year-old unknown. A promising youngster in the cast was Alfred Drake, who later made history as the singing star of "Oklahoma!"

This time the star is electric Julie Wilson, who belts out a song with all the verve of an Ethel Merman. The rest of the cast is made up of talented youngsters, several of whom the critics already have tagged for stardom.

The scene of this opening is the Royal Poinciana Playhouse in Palm Beach, where the audience dines and dances in an adjoining room before and after the play.

Hopes For Future Says Rogers: "I hope I'm around long enough to see some of these kids make good in as big a way as did Mitzi Green and Alfred Drake and some of the others in the first cast. And I hope I can still write their songs for them."

Julie Wilson has the audience going up with her high-voltage rendition of that durable Rogers-Hart hit song, "The Lady is a Tramp." Next she gives out with "Johnny One Note." Then the entire company does a reprise of "Babes in Arms."

"Good songs just don't go out of date," says Rogers, who wrote his first professional score for a Broadway show.

Indoor Gardening

Starting an Avocado Plant Good Do-It-Yourself Project

By Katherine B. Walker
Of all the indoor gardening "do-it-yourself" projects, I believe that starting avocado plants from seed is second only to rooting African violet leaves.

There is something about the large, plump seed that seems to entice even the non-gardeners into trying to make it sprout; fortunately, it usually germinates without too much effort.

After removing the seed carefully from the fruit, wash off any pulp that may be clinging to it. Then insert three toothpicks radially around the base, or larger, end, so that it may be suspended in a wide-mouthed jar.

Add water to cover the base of the seed, and maintain the water at this level until the seed is well sprouted. Keep the seed jar warm and out of direct sunlight.

Indoor grown avocados must be protected from direct sunlight as this may scorch the thin leaves. Give them rich, moist soil (they may be potted whenever root development is sufficient) and keep them out of drafts.

These plants have large, somewhat leathery leaves, and frequently grow quite tall before branching. Although earlier branching may sometimes be induced by cutting them back rather severely, if you want a fuller-appearing plant it is often more satisfactory to place two or three of them in the same pot instead of trying to make one branch against its will.

Can Pteris ferns be started from spores? I have heard that this is impossible.

I think that raising any fern from spores may be considered somewhat difficult, but it certainly is not impossible. Probably the easiest method is to cut the spore-bearing fronds into short segments and lay them spore-side down on a sterile seed-bed. Keep the soil damp, and covered with a piece of glass to maintain proper humidity until the young plants begin to grow.

What is the difference between an epiphyte, a parasite, and a saprophyte?

An epiphyte is a plant that grows on other plants but derives its nourishment from the air. A parasite is a plant that feeds on another plant. A saprophyte is a plant that feeds only on dead plant or plant material. Spider plants are an excellent example of an epiphyte; mistletoe is a well-known parasite; mushrooms are saprophytes.

When does auburn flower?

Auburn flowers year-round, almost all the time. It is classed as an everblooming plant.

What are the plants now in florists' shops that look like brilliant daisies, and sometimes have two colors in the petals in perfect circles?

Probably the plants are cinerarias.

USC Student Ends Ping-Pong Marathon

Los Angeles.—P. Has a University of Southern California freshman ended or just begun the latest in his "season" of ping-pong.

Engineering student Thayer Holbrook last night halted a 50 hour ping pong endurance contest last night because "I have classes in the morning."

His fraternity house kept him well supplied with soup and gallons of orange juice while he played in his bare feet.

During the marathon 19-year-old Holbrook won 265 games and lost 138 against a dozen opponents.

Can your child afford not to have a college education?

Advances in living costs, rising taxes and the cost of college are forcing parents to look for ways to help their children pay for college. This is even more true for parents of high school graduates who are in the process of planning for the future. The particular college program most designed to develop their children's potential.

U. S. Census statistics show that the cost of college is rising more than twice over in extra earnings in ten years.

In an average, for the college graduate earn $10,000 more than the one with a high school education only. And this takes no account of the extra satisfaction a college education brings.

One way to help make sure your children will have the education they need is through Metropolitan's Education-

Estate Builder Plan.
This policy may be taken out shortly after a child's birth. Of course the younger the child, the lower the premium. Then, on maturity of the policy, the amount is available for the child's education. For a slight additional cost, the policy can even provide for the waiver of future premiums to maturity date in the event of the father's death.

And still another advantage to this Metropolitan Education-Estate Builder Plan is the privilege of conversion.

When the policy matures, if the money is not then needed for education, each $1,000 of the plan can be converted into $5,000 of Limited Payment Life Insurance. The premium remains unchanged and no medical examination is required.

Thus, this converted insurance becomes a ready-made insurance estate for your child's start in family life.

Planning for your children's education is not a thing that you should put off. It is never too soon to prepare for the costs of a college education.

That is why it is a good idea to talk to your Metropolitan Representative as soon as possible. He will be happy to explain how a Metropolitan Education-Estate Builder Plan can help you give your children the advanced education they will need.

State Bank Head

Mrs. Theresa Schuh, widow of former Appleton state bank president Matt A. Schuh, left an estate of $106,289, a final account approved by County Judge Stanley A. Staidi shows. Bulk of the estate was a trust left by her husband at his death in 1953. Mrs. Schuh died March 4, 1957.

Schuh left two trusts—one for his wife and one for his four children, to be divided equally upon his wife's death. Mrs. Schuh left no will and her estate is divided equally among the children.

The trust totaled $136,716 and debts reduced it to $73,791. Mrs. Schuh's estate totaled $32,498. Debts, funeral expenses and costs of administration totaled $4,044. Federal estate tax was $5,276, bringing the net estate for distribution to $96,969.

The children are William J. Schuh, 125 1/2 E. College avenue; Mrs. Kathryn Evans, 806 S. Pierce avenue; Mrs. Virginia Grassie, Dayton, Ohio, and Mrs. Jeanette Langlois, Freeport, Ill. Each will receive $24,242.36, with a state tax for each of $254.85. In addition, a gift of $9,843.75 was given William Schuh in contemplation of death, the estate file indicates.

Assembly Bill Proposes State Scholarships

Madison —P— A half million dollar appropriation for state scholarships and student loans is asked in a bill requested by Gov. Gaylord Nelson and introduced Friday in the assembly.

Introduction was made by Assemblyman Keith Hardie of Taylor, the Democratic floor leader.

The scholarships and loans would be issued and supervised by a state committee consisting of the state superintendent of public instruction and six governor appointees.

The appointees would serve 4-year terms without salary. Nelson's bill asks $34,688 to cover annual expenses of the committee.

Examinations Proposed
A total of $262,500 is asked to cover the scholarship costs, and another $222,000 to set up a revolving fund for loans.

Scholarship candidates would be limited to Wisconsin residents. Successful applicants would have their choice of any accredited public or private school in the state. A statewide examination would determine recipients.

The bill was the only major item of legislation introduced in an informal session of the Legislature. Both houses again will meet informally Tuesday. Regular business sessions will be renewed Wednesday.

Bill to Erase 2-Term Ruling Draws Support

Madison —P— A proposal to erase a law that limits Wisconsin sheriffs to only two successive terms drew support Thursday from a former sheriff now serving in the assembly.

John Gray, D - Antigo, 2-term sheriff of Langlade county, said he ran for the assembly because he was ineligible for a third stint. He said voters should have the say-so on the number of terms.

The Democratic - authored joint resolution to repeal the present law was given a public hearing before the assembly state affairs committee. It must pass two successive legislatures and be approved on a statewide referendum to become law.

George Sawyer of Elkhorst, a deputy sheriff, said the 2-term restriction discourages qualified men from seeking the office. Many keep jobs as deputies because of added job security, he said.

A Madison lawyer, representing a state sheriff's organization, said the present law hinders good law enforcement.

Men Caddy for Stars

Tucson, Ariz. —P— Four caddies were needed to tote the golf bags for Desi Arnaz, Bing Crosby, Phil Harris and Randolph Scott during an exhibition match for charity in Tucson.

Several Tucson businessmen volunteered. Four got the job after they agreed to donate $100 each to the charities.

Village of Goodman in Marinette County Started as Company Town

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The company store, the company store. — Folk Song.
I owe my soul to the company store. — Folk Song.
Goodman — Here is a tale of two cities — a company town from 1908 to 1955, and the Goodman of today under the guidance of a great corporation.

This village of about 1,000 persons is still rocking on its collective heels since its sale in 1955 to Calumet and Hecla, Inc., Chicago. With that sale went the mixed blessings of a paternalistic management and the quaint but unpleasant financial thumb screws which are the principle inheritance of company town personnel.

From the date of its founding, July 8, 1908, to the date of its sale in 1955, no person employed here by Robert Goodman could be free in the accepted versions of freedom. No man could own his home, nor his land nor could he foresee hope in the tomorrows ahead.

Isolated as it was from metropolitan areas and even from shopping districts, virtually everything that the Goodman Lumber company workers ate, wore or used, came from company stores — at full retail prices.

23 Deductions

It was customary, under the company town organization for employees to have as many as 23 deductions from their pay. Among these deductions were rent, power and heat, fuel, cost of a medical association, an athletic association, store credit rendered, beer money, milk, recreation in the community club house, and even rental fees for axe and saw of the workers.

Said one villager: "I have known some families to go for many months without ever being paid in cash."

When a townsman drew no funds because of being in debt to the company store and to the system, he would be paid in brass money which could be used as legal tender in Goodman. "Good for $5.00 in merchandise," read a legend on the brass money.

Wages ran from $1.55 per day for common labor from 1910 to 1916 up to $3.75 in 1932. During the depression years, wages for labor dropped to $2.70 for a day's work.

Rode Depression

However, the Goodman Lumber company remained operative during the fantastic business depression of 1929-1932 when the market for lumber was virtually non-existent. Undoubtedly, Robert Goodman made some financial 41 degrees Fishing and hunting in the area is little short of magnificent. And the village of Goodman lies among ancient glacial hills dominated by the Keweenaw loams and red soils and punctuated by massive outcroppings of granite and quartzite.

Largest Birch Tree

The forest contains birch, maple, basswood, black and white ash, white pine, spruce, cedar, hemlock, balsam and aspen. The general manager, 38, and bricky efficient is George A. Houghton who avers that the Goodman forests boast the largest yellow birch tree in the world and one of the biggest basswood trees.

Originally, the forests of the Goodman Lumber company comprised 70,000 acres, but portions of it were sold from time to time, and it now extends over some 50,000 acres in Marinette, Florence and Forest counties.

The village of Goodman grew, with populations fluctuating from as many as 1,400 and as few as 600. Present population is about 1,000.

Robert Goodman maintained firm control over the populace of the village which bears his name, though he chose to make his home at Marinette after 1935. Much of his firmness was, and is resented by townsfolk for he was the absolute ruler of the community on every major question. Undoubtedly, Goodman was a philanthropist of major stature, but absolute rulers are historically unpopular.

Called Domineering

Many villagers with whom the reporter talked chose the word "domineering" as an apt description of the founder of their village. Though he was liberal in gifts to the community and though his name will stand forever in Wisconsin history, he generally was unloved.

His death which came a few years after his sale of forest and village, lock, stock and barrel, was mainly unlamented.

At his funeral, though the entire plant was closed for the day, only 15 local people chose to pay to his memory the last, small compliment of attendance at the rites.

Civil Defense Looking for Home-Use Radiation Meter

The office of civil and defense mobilization is accelerating its program to develop a portable radiation dose-rate meter for individual and family use.

The radiation instrument industry and other electronic equipment manufacturers have been invited to contact OCDM for specifications and technical guidance, with limited financial support to industry through development contracts to companies that submit promising proposals.

The citizens' portable radiation dose-rate meter should be designed to be primarily for use as an aid to the householder in selecting the safest area in his house when fallout is present and could be useful in measuring radiation immediately outside the shelter. In rural areas or remote places is part of the requirement. If there is no local civil defense, the householder may 50 hours and operate properly to survey the area surrounding his house or farm.

Before he attempts this, he must understand the meter limitations and during a survey must be careful to avoid overexposure. He must be able to interpret the meter readings, and understand what they mean.

Design Limits
The citizens' dose-rate meter should be designed and constructed for home use and need not have the ruggedness industry through development contracts to companies that submit promising proposals.

It must be designed to operate simply and easily, to read directly to minimize error designed to be primarily for use as an aid to the householder in selecting the safest area in his house when fallout is present and could be useful in measuring radiation immediately outside the shelter. In rural areas or remote places is part of the requirement. If there is no local civil defense, the householder may 50 hours and operate properly to survey the area surrounding his house or farm.

Kennedy Lists 5 Principles of Good Agricultural Program

Capacity Crowd Hears Senator Conclude 3-Day Wisconsin Tour

Five principles for a sound, long-range farm program or any one administration, were listed by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) in an address at St. Pius X Catholic church parish hall Saturday night.

About 600 people attended the dinner and speech — last event on Kennedy's 3-day tour of Wisconsin.

A good agricultural program would be based on the following principles, he said:

First, farm abundance should be treated as a blessing. The Democratic party must not be a curse. Surpluses should be shipped to hungry people elsewhere in the world, but Americans should also bear in mind that our own ever-expanding population is going to consume more and more foodstuffs.

Second, any national farm program should be based on promotion and preservation of the family farm.

"We have no wish to become a nation of giant commercial corporation farms and absentee landlords. Our job is to look out for the family farmer — and we can count on the family farmer to look out for the future of our soil — and the future of the country," he said.

Third, a farm program should be run by farmers, not government officials, Kennedy declared.

Fourth, any future farm program should assure our nation's farmers of a fair share of the national net income.

"This does not mean farm prices should always rise, but they should not be the only ones to fall," Kennedy said.

Consider Needs
"We must not only look at the prices the farmer pays, but at the prices he receives. We must consider his needs for power, water and upstream projects and his dependence upon good roads and cheap freight rates."

Fifth, a national farm program should encourage, not retard, the growth of the co-operative movement, Kennedy declared.

"The co-operative movement offers one of the few remaining hopes to young men and women who are today leaving the farm. It gives them an element of protection, stability and bargaining power which they do not otherwise possess. In contrast to their city neighbors who are in business or labor," the senator said.

"There is neither justice or fair play in the administration's latest proposals to tax cooperatives," Kennedy continued.

Common Interest
Kennedy said he is convinced there can be no prosperity in the city without prosperity on the farm.

"When 4 million people are driven from the farm under this administration and go to the city to compete for jobs or go on relief, when farm purchasing power drops several billions of dollars in five years, the effects are felt in the city," he stated.

Kennedy said he doesn't agree dismissal of Sec. of Agriculture Ezra Benson would solve the farm problem.

"This problem is bigger and deeper than any one man must be obeyed and its authority upheld, he declared. Kennedy charged the Eisenhower administration has interfered with the people's right to know about what is going on in their government. There should be full and adequate coverage of governmental operations, he said.

Romance Rumored Between Actress, King of Jordan

Hollywood — Actress Susan Cabot flew to New York last night, thereby adding no end of encouragement to rumors she's having a romance with Jordan's King Hussein.

Hussein, who met her while he was visiting in southern California, is now in Detroit. But he's due in New York tomorrow.

The couple dated several times after meeting at a party. Susan, a petite divorcee of 31, yesterday termed Hussein "the most charming man I have ever met." Her New York trip was to try for a stage part.

She wouldn't speak to newsmen on the subject of a possible romance between her and Hussein, who is 24 and also divorced. Hussein has maintained a regal silence about the affair.

Sen. Kennedy Charms Fox Valley With Youthful Vigor, Sincerity

BY DAVID APKER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

If it was up to the people who met and heard him in the Fox Valley Saturday, Sen. John Kennedy probably would be elected president by a whopping majority.

From the time he stepped off the plane at Austin Straubel airport in Green Bay about 4:15 p.m. Saturday to the conclusion of his speech in Appleton about 10 p.m., the youthful Massachusetts Democrat charmed one and all with an almost boyish enthusiasm in meeting people, combined with a vigorous and sincere approach when he discussed political issues.

Part of Kennedy's personal success is his ability to introduce an element of honest-to-goodness sincerity to actions which, done by other politicians, would look patently phoney.

Greets Mother, Child
One of Kennedy's first actions as he headed through the airport gate was to stride briskly to a young mother holding a small child and chat pleasantly for a moment or two — an interlude that hardly could be called political grandstanding because it was witnessed by only one or two people in the milling crowd.

Riding into Green Bay for a press conference and television interview, Kennedy expressed interest in the fortunes of the Green Bay Packers, exhibiting a fairly good working knowledge of the team.

date who could most help the state ticket in the 1960 election worthy of discussion. He said it was "a matter that would be considered by people of responsibility at the convention," that it would be a factor in southern states, and that it had something to do with Al Smith's defeat in 1928.

But Kennedy said he thinks the record of the past 20 years shows that "American people make their judgments pretty much on general talent, not on a basis of religion." He pointed to the elections of Sen. Edward Muskie in Maine and Gov. Abraham Ribicoff in Connecticut as examples. Both are of faiths which are in the minority in their states.

On the age issue, Kennedy will be 42 next month, the senator sees it as a factor with advantages as well as disadvantages.

Kennedy sees Democrats as now belonging to "a young intellectual party." His age and appearance fit this mold. His backers believe he has an advantage because of national concern over past illness of President Eisenhower.

Appears Younger
It is when you sit in the back of a college lecture hall and listen to Kennedy that the senator's lack of a record appears much younger. When you talk with him or late Sen. Joseph McCarthy see him on television, he has not come up more often the same lines on his forehead during any of the question periods as any other man starting riots after his talks since it is his forties.

But his age will be a blunt fact on which many primary votes could swing. One man reporter at Madison Green Bay, that he could be said simply he "would never peated what he has said because he is younger than I am, it fore. He said he was in the hospital for an operation on a World war II injury when the vote was taken and could not keep up with Senate debate. "I was prepared to vote on the campaign trail, Mrs. Kennedy is extremely quiet. She has the ability to listen at-

Odds and Ends

Ticket Sale Response Forces Extra Shopping

Odds and ends from Kennedy's visit to the Fox Valley: The ticket sales response to Kennedy's dinner-speech was so enthusiastic that Mrs. William Cherkasky, chairman of the Outagamie county Democratic party, had to do some hurried last-minute shopping to round up enough food for the 600 people who attended.

Kennedy's only comment on the resignation of Dick F. Zingsheim from the county party because of what Zingsheim called efforts of the Democrats to "use" the Catholic church to promote Kennedy was that he'd heard there had been some minor losses to the county Democratic organization.

The senator showed a thorough grasp of history during his talk by quoting several little-known historical events to make his points. He finished up with a poem, adapted from another New Englander, Robert Frost. Said Kennedy: "Wisconsin's woods are dark and deep, but I have promises to keep and miles to go before I sleep." (He flew to Indianapolis late Saturday night to make another address Sunday.)

Cause of much comment in the press delegation was the apparent slip of the tongue made by William T. Evjue, Madison newspaper publisher, in introducing the Kennedys in that city. Evjue introduced them as "Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy," then quickly corrected himself. Kennedy got even by referring to the editor as "Mr. Nevjue" during his speech.

Evjue later explained he was distraught over the death of his friend, Architect Frank Lloyd Wright.

Washington Columnist Joseph Alsop quit the press party before the tour was finished and headed back east.

nedy. This was illustrated after a college talk in which Kennedy urged greater training for and participation in politics. The first question after the talk was from a student who wanted to know, rather pointedly, if it was not a lot easier to be in politics if you had money.

"Let me say first that being independently wealthy is not a hardship," Kennedy began his answer.

Shake Validity of Old Political Rule

Close Victory by Harold Hallows
Portends Rivalry for Judgeships

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The "sitting judge" tradition has been re-tained in Wisconsin supreme court elections but by such a narrow margin in the re-election of Justice E. Harold Hallows as to reduce the validity of the old political rule.

The thin victory of the appointed member of the supreme court over Stewart Honeck Tuesday was a surprise to most politicians.

It may portend more rivalry for incumbent judges in the future. Best explanation of the close balloting was the fact that the justice was making his first statewide appearance on the ballot while Honeck, as a former candidate for attorney general had more name familiarity.

There was also a good deal of quiet work on behalf of Honeck by local leaders of the Republican party organization, as a result of the operation of the compulsory retirement law. Judges must now retire at the age of 70, which means that proportionately more appointments to fill vacancies will be made by governors. The law requires such an appointee to run soon after his selection. The record of recent balloting will probably encourage other candidates to challenge such appointive magistrates.

Senate Contest

There will be considerable speculation, meanwhile, about the meaning of the hard-fought state senate contest in Dane county which went to the Democrats, as expected but by an unexpectedly small margin.

Assemblyman Carl Thompson of Stoughton, edged Ivan Kindschi by a 60-40 margin for the seat vacated last January by Gov. Gaylord Nelson.

The Kindschi proportion of the vote was the best showing the Republicans have made in Dane county in recent years.

Republicans had not believed Kindschi would win but they spent a considerable effort on improving the party showing, for morale purposes.

Thompson may be expected to cut a considerable figure in the senate. He is one of the close friends of Gov. Nelson and one of the favorites of the powerful inner circle in Democratic party affairs.

Seek Location For State Forest Camp

Area Would be Used to Confine Juvenile Offenders

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The forestry training camp for juvenile delinquents which has been proposed to the legislature by Gov. Nelson will probably be located in the wilds of Jackson county in western Wisconsin if the legislature approves the $400,000 fund for the program.

Conservation department officials have recommended to the welfare department the location of the camp in the Black River state forest, in an uninhabited portion considerably east of Black River Falls, according to reliable accounts here.

Plan Tour

Officers of the two agencies will tour the region to examine a number of suggested sites.

Such a forestry camp for young male offenders has often been proposed, but Nelson's was the first suggestion of the kind formally advanced by a governor.

The youngsters would be employed for the most part in outdoors work involving forest clean-up and improvement of various kinds, including tree planting.

There would also be an academic program for them.

Tree Nursery

Foresters have suggested that the Black River state forest is one that lends itself to various recreational improvement projects, including water impoundments. The boys would also be used occasionally for seasonal work at the Wisconsin Rapids forest tree nursery, it is supposed.

A new trans-Wisconsin interstate highway is being developed on a route that will come fairly close to the Black River Forest and thus will probably bring a good deal of tourist traffic to the district in future years, conservation department spokesmen feel.

Youngster Discovers Bones of Prehistoric Elephant Ancestor

Sarasota, Fla. — If Jimmy Steckley's dog Perk liked bones as well as most dogs do, he should have stuck closer to his young master.

Jimmy, a 13-year-old eighth grader, was looking for Perk yesterday when he stumbled on what appeared to be the bones of a mammoth, a prehistoric ancestor of the elephant.

Jimmy quickly summoned his science teacher, Carl G. Zwerk, and some friends. They started digging.

By nightfall, they had uncovered a leg bone, a pelvis, a skull, some teeth and some vertebrae.

Zwerk estimated the fossil's age at between 20,000 and 30,000 years old.

Jimmy never did find Perk.

Denver, Colo. — Miss Mona Gine will be more careful the next time she inserts an advertisement in a newspaper.

She ran this one: "College grad wanted to share apt. Swimming pool." She included the address, and this happened:

County Hospital Expansion to 350 Bed Unit Planned

Convert Infirmary, Storage Area;
Open House Scheduled April 26

Winnebago — Expansion of the Winnebago county hospital from 300 to a 350 bed capacity and an open house at the hospital April 26 in observance of Mental Health week were announced today by Clarence Ward, hospital superintendent.

The open house will be from 1:30 to 4 p.m. that Sunday afternoon as part of the "Operation Friendship" program featuring the national observance of Mental Health week. April 26 to May 2. There will be guided tours of the hospital facilities.

When the hospital was opened in 1953 the trustees and county board set the capacity at 300. Included in the facilities was an infirmary unit which never has been used.

The infirmary section will be opened up May 1 and will be for non-ambulatory patients, Ward said. This section will provide 20 more beds in single and 2-bed rooms. All of the furniture for this section has not arrived but is expected within a week.

Use Storage Rooms

The other 30 beds will be spread around in the other units as former storage room areas are being converted into patient rooms. Storage will be in a central area rather than distributed on each floor.

The expansion will raise the hospital's capacity to 175 men and 175 women.

Using the infirmary section for non-ambulatory patients will make it easier to care for these persons who now are scattered throughout the hospital. There also will be day rooms for these patients. One room is being reserved for isolation cases and will have its own separate facilities.

The hospital rooms and corridors are being redecorated in four basic colors, apple blossom, blond yellow, mint green and starlight blue. Drapes also are being prepared by hospital employees for the 600 windows.

$750,000 Daily

In announcing the open house for April 26, Ward called attention to some national statistics which point out that one out of every 10 persons will have some form of mental or emotional illness requiring treatment. Each year, 1,220,000 are given psychiatric care in a mental hospital or turn to Page 2, Col. 3

Neenah — Paul Stacker, former Neenah recreation director and Boys' Brigade coordinator who is now park and recreation director for Columbus, Ind., recently was presented the "Good Government" award of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of that city.

It was the second time he received that award, the other time in 1952. He also has received the Lions Achievement award of that city. Stacker went to Columbus, Ind., in 1948.

Besides being park and recreation director, he also is vice president of the Indiana Swimming Pool Operators association on the board of directors of the Indiana park and recreation commission, a member of the Harrison Lake town board and active in the Mental Health association.

While a Neenah resident, he had received the Jaycee Distinguished Service award in 1942. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Stacker, 741 Congress place.

The girls' glee club will be directed by Sister M. Sophronia and the bands by Bernard Kiel.

St. Mary Host To Meeting of Library Guild

Menasha — Nineteen Wisconsin Catholic high schools were represented Saturday at the annual spring meeting of the Catholic Student Library Assistants' guild of Wisconsin, held at St. Mary High school.

Area schools represented included Sacred Heart, Appleton; St. John, Little Chute; St. Joseph academy, Green Bay; St. Mary Springs academy, Fond du Lac; and St. Mary, Menasha.

At the meeting, a resolution was adopted calling for a meeting of faculty moderators of the guild. As a result, Sister M. Catharine, St. Mary librarian, will attend the meeting at Sturtevant May 7.

Keynote speaker was Miss Beverly Butler, Milwaukee, who has written two books. Her topic was "Behind the Scenes," how she puts together plots and characters in her books to make them appear alive and real.

Marvin E. Melick, head librarian at Elisha D. Smith library, addressed one of the already contributed $200,000 sectional meetings on National Library week.

Officers of the state organization will be elected by mail balloting.

Sensenbrenner Heads Drive

Group Will Seek Money for New
UW Medical Library

Milwaukee — F. James Sensenbrenner, president of the Sensenbrenner Paper company, Milwaukee, and formerly of Neenah, will head a statewide fund campaign to build a new medical library on the

F. J. Sensenbrenner

University of Wisconsin campus.

The campaign begins Wednesday afternoon. Funds will be collected from business and industry.

Sensenbrenner's unit will seek to raise $500,000 from industry and other private sources toward a total goal of $2,500,000 to build and equip a 2-story, modern library. It will be named for former Madison, now chief medical officer of the veterans' administration in Washington, D.C.

Medical school alumni have already contributed $200,000. Funds are sought from private sources because privatization of other campus construction puts the library in the fund other units.

State and Local Chapter Officers of the National Campers and Hikers association met Saturday at Neenah to exchange program ideas and discuss developing more campsites. Grouped around a paper tent, for which Kimberly-Clark corporation's Atlas mill at Appleton supplies the material, are Jack Bylow, Neenah; Mike Blaze, Milwaukee; NCHA field director; Len Matthews, Milwaukee; NCHA regional director, Carl Williams and John Falck, both of Neenah. The three Neenah men are officers of the Fox Valley chapter which was host for the meeting.

Campers Back State Park Sticker Plan

Officers of Local Chapters Endorse
Legislation for $2 Annual Fee Per Car

Neenah — Proposed legislation to charge a $2 sticker fee per year for all cars entering state parks and to raise the camping fee from 75 cents to $1 a night received the endorsement of state and local chapter officers of the National Campers and Hikers association who met at the Boys' Brigade building here Saturday.

About 40 officers from 500 chapters having more than 500 members attended the session for which the Fox Valley chapter was host.

No charge is now made for entering state parks. Money from the fees would be used to develop state park facilities since the state has complained it does not have enough money to properly operate the state parks, Victor Broome, Fond du Lac, publicity director of the Upper Mississippi valley district of the national association, declared.

Increased Use

Broome added that picnicers should be willing to contribute to the upkeep of the state parks. The cost of operating the parks has increased during the last several years because of more persons using them. A large surge in the number of campers using the parks was reported and it was brought out that the number of campers in the country doubled to 22 million between 1957 and 1958.

A proposal for a survey by American Legion posts as to the feasibility of the Legion establishing public campsites was suggested by Kenneth Breister, Fond du Lac, an association member and Sixth district vice commander of the Legion.

The Legion was interested, Ninth wards, according to Wayne G. Bryan, public works director. Rubbish must be on the curb by 7 a.m.

Neenah — The springer spaniel owned by Ted Knorr, 418 Sherry street, was being aided by a light bulb for additional warmth while delivering her litter of eight pups Sunday.

Trouble was the light bulb set fire to the kennel and the adjoining garage about 6:44 a.m. Sunday, resulting in considerable damage to the garage and to a car owned by Nathan D. Calder, owner of 418 Sherry street.

The fire was noticed by Mrs. Knorr when her baby began to cry. She got up to check on the baby and noticed smoke from the 3-car garage. She alerted others in the house and two of the cars were removed. Calder had not left his keys in the car and the brakes were set so that it could not be moved out during the heat of the blaze.

Firemen were called back at 10:25 a.m. Sunday when someone thought they saw more smoke but no fire was found.

Two puppies were born before the fire was noticed and these were moved out of the way of the fire by the dog. One was born while the Knorrs were moving the dogs and five were born later, the last one being born dead.

Results of Lake Fly Research To be Outlined

Oshkosh College Meeting to Launch Drive for Funds

Oshkosh — Progress into the Lake Winnebago lake fly research program will be outlined at a meeting at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in Room 208 of the Oshkosh State college health and physical education building.

The meeting is open to all interested Neenah - Menasha and Lake Winnebago area residents, according to David E. Ryan of Edgewater Paper company, Menasha, and John G. Konrad, Neenah - Menasha Chamber of Commerce executive secretary, who are vice president and secretary respectively of Winnebago Lake Fly Research, Inc.

A complete report on lake fly research work during the last year and a summary of the program for the ensuing year will be presented by members of a joint University of Wisconsin - Oshkosh State college research team, headed by Dr. Robert Dicks, professor of entomology at the university.

Other members of the research unit are Dr. William Hilsenrath, also of the university entomology department, and Dr. Jacob Shapiro and Dr. J. Daniel Palm, both of the Oshkosh State college biology department.

Question Period Official presentation of the report will take about an hour and another half hour will be devoted to a question and answer period. Dr. E. A. Strakosch, Oshkosh, organization president, will be chairman.

Copies of the research team annual report, containing interesting lake fly information unknown a year ago, already have been filed at the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce office, the state conservation department and with other agencies.

Ryan said the research team has done a "wonderful job" and had uncovered many "fascinating facts" during its study. The meeting Thursday will also serve as the kick-off for the 1959-60 fund raising campaign for the lake fly research project.

This will be the last year that people will be asked to contribute to the project. Ryan is in charge of the fund raising drive in the Twin Cities.

High-Speed Chase Causes Loss of Driver Permit

Menasha — A high-speed, lightless chase through Neenah and Menasha Sunday night cost Lawrence D. Johnson, 16, 631 Stevens street, Neenah, his driver's license for 90 days.

The youth pleaded guilty of reckless driving before Police Justice Arthur Ales this morning.

Police, patrolling a Marathon division parking lot near Garfield and Washington streets about 8:30 p. m. Sunday, saw the Johnson car parked with three teenagers inside. When the police car approached, the car zipped from the lot west to Washington street, where it failed to stop for the arrival sign.

The car, without headlights, burning traveled south on Washington into Neenah on Commercial street, turned westward on Cuyamaca and Railroad streets north on Mathewson and west on Fox street, a dead end.

The police car bottled their car in the dead end street.

While being chased the Johnson car was struck by a car driven by Ken Vander Horst, 600 S. 10th street, Appleton, at Fox and Mathewson streets. Police said.

Exploding Ammunition Warns of House Fire

Menasha — Explosion of ammunition Saturday warned residents of the 2-story house at 337 Second street of a fire in the upper story and probably resulted in saving of the house with only minor damage to the house.

The shells exploded about 10:45 a. m. Saturday while the owner, Mrs. Nina Ingraham, a roomer, Herbert Kain, and Kain's daughter, Mrs. Arilla Landers, Chicago, were about to leave for the funeral in Appleton of Kain's brother Roy.

Kain rushed upstairs, crawled on the floor to keep from breathing smoke and entered his room, where he found a small television set blazing.

K-C Graduates Three Junior Tradesmen

Trades Training Alumni Upped to 286 in 11 Mills

Neenah — Three junior tradesmen graduated Thursday evening to bring the Kimberly-Clark junior trades training alumni to a total of 286 in the 11 mills where the program is in effect.

Receiving their certificates at the graduation dinner program at the Menasha hotel were Kenneth H. Kiser and Richard R. Ciske, millwrights, and Robert E. Besaw, pipefitter.

Jack Hesselman, coordinator for the corporation program and master of ceremonies of the graduation, said the field service alumni now total 24. The three graduates were from that division.

V. E. Zeuthen, assistant chief engineer, presented the Wisconsin state certificates; W. J. Mumme, field service personnel superintendent, the Kimberly-Clark certificates, and Howard Collins, Kim Clark shops superintendent, the maintenance manuals.

Investment of Time C. G. R. Johnson, corporation vice president and chief engineer, and Edward Graves, superintendent of field service operations, spoke of junior trades training as an investment of time, effort and sacrifice on the part of the men and their wives.

Graves, principal speaker of the evening, emphasized that this is an investment from which you can collect all your life. Opportunities available to craftsmen today are limitless for the need for trained craftsmen and tradesmen is great and it will continue if our economy continues as it is.

Willing to Study Johnson, in congratulating the graduates, said that every boy or girl wants to take time to be a junior tradesman. You fellows wanted to do it, were willing to study and sacrifice your time. It's the first step to a successful career.

Guests included the wives of the graduates, Don Van der Horst, Earl Van der Horst and William Storm, union members of the junior trades training committee; Dan Johnson, director, and James V. Burke of the National Junior Trade School; and Arthur Ales, Appleton, at Fox and Mathewson streets. Police said.

Zephyrs Err 16 Times; Drop Doubleheader to Manitowoc

Outfit Foes in Opener but
Bow 8-3; Lose Nightcap 11-3

Manitowoc — Getting all but five of its runs by the unearned route, Manitowoc swept to an 8-3, 11-3 doubleheader win over St. Mary at the Sixth street field Saturday afternoon.

Porousness afield led to the Zephyr downfall as they committed nine errors in the first game and seven in the second plus several costly mental miscues.

The Menashans outthrew their 4-3 in the initial contest and they made an equal number in the second while the Shipbuilders garnered eight of the eight Menasha blows of the afternoon were of the extra base variety.

Hurts 3-Hitter
Tom Balthazor went all the way for St. Mary in the first contest and twirled the three-hitter. He walked six hitters and struck out 11. The nine bobbles kept him in frequent trouble and only three of Marty's runs were earned.

Lefty Ron Vnuk was the Manitowoc winner in the opener. He struck out 14 Zephyrs and issued five bases on balls.

Manitowoc scored single unearned runs in the first and third innings, each without getting a hit. St. Mary took a 3-2 lead with its trio in the last of the third.

Rueckl Triples
Bob Jensen led off with a walk and was tripled home by Jim Rueckl. Tom Hildebrandt then belted a 2-run homer down the right field line.

The Shipbuilders came up with three in the fifth on a walk, a hit and two errors and added three more in the sixth on a walk. "Butch" Lutz's triple and John Zagrodnik's homer, St. Mary had a single runner on base in three of the last four innings.

Paul Meier had two singles to lead the St. Mary attack while Zagrodnik, a 200-pound outfielder, collected two of Manitowoc's three.

The two foes were tied at 3-all at the end of four frames in the nightcap but the Ships came up with two runs in the fifth and three in the sixth and seventh. Two of their 11 runs were earned.

Zagrodnik Homers
After Manitowoc scored a run in the second and two in the third (another 2-run circuit clout by Zagrodnik), St. Mary came back with one in the third on a walk. Jim Rueckl's double and a wild pitch.

The hosts tied the score in the fourth. With one out Pete Snyder and Pat Quigley walked. Bill Simon struck out and Rueckl was safe on an error. B.

Foxes Obtain Hard-Hitting Weatherspoon on Option

'Chuck' Is Versatile Performer

The Fox Cities Foxes today came up with the long-sought-after "Chuck" Weatherspoon, who combined with "Potato" Pascual, could give the team a fearsome 1-2 punch.

Weatherspoon, who clubbed 35 home runs en route to a .346-113 RBI year with Missoula last year, has been optioned by Chattanooga to the Foxes as a catcher. However, he can also play first base or the outfield.

Manager Jack McKeon reports from Fernandina Beach that the Foxes now have a 5-1 exhibition record again in intra-camp games. Their latest win was 3-1 over Missoula Saturday. Foxes homers were hit by outfielder Jerry Patrick and Bob Mason, a promising first baseman.

Charlotte Leaves

To get Weatherspoon, the Foxes turned over new catcher Wayne Leneave to Chattanooga, which in turn optioned him to Charlotte. The Charlotte club left the training base Sunday, taking with it such former Fox Cities personnel as Bill Felker, Earl Furlow, Don Danton and Bob Tano.

Among the pitchers definitely assigned to the Foxes is lefty Dick Griffith, who worked for the Fox Cities most of last season. Griffith has looked good and has trimmed his weight down considerably, says McKeon.

After spending four days in the spring training camp and two days in Washington last week, Foxes President Ray McCrone is optimistic about the upcoming Three-I league season.

Though the complete roster the Foxes will bring north in 14 weeks is not yet settled, McCrone believes the parent Senators will send a good ball club here. He feels his hastily-scheduled trip "strengthened our agreement" and should prove valuable in a public relations way.

To Add More Players

The Foxes are due to pick up players on option from Charlotte and Chattanooga either before they break camp or in the early weeks of the regular season. For that reason, says McCrone, it is impossible to peg a complete lineup as yet.

The club president was impressed with the way new manager Jack McKeon handled the club in camp and the players' hustle.

He also came away singing the praises of shortstop Zello Versailles.

McCrone reports that Ron Dibelius has been worked extensively at third base and (19) and 584 (22) respectively, that it looks as if the Menasha bonus player will be sent to Missoula for the start of the season. Dibelius has worked as hard as anyone in camp and has looked good, says McCrone.

When McCrone attended the AL opener in Washington, he stayed at the home of Senator executive vice president Joe Haynes. He also attended a Touchdown club dinner for the team at the Statler hotel.

Neenah—Ev Perrine of Appleton, and Shirley King, Menasha, collected a 1,137 series, including 20 pins handicap per game, to win the class A Doubles championship in the Cen-Fox Valley Women's Bowling association tournament which concluded at Lakewood Lanes over the weekend.

Mrs. Perrine hammered a scratch 614 threesome including a 245 game. Her handicap series total was 633.

Another New Leader

Only one other new leader emerged under the weekend assault. Marie Peterson of Hollandtown tallied a 574 set, including a 34 pin handicap, for class C singles honors.

Marge Elting of Hollandtown rolled 590 (24) for second in class B while Roselyn Wall, Hollandtown, and Mary Koester, Menasha, posted 589 (19) and 584 (22) respectively, for fourth and fifth.

Dallas Long Puts Shot 16 Inches Over World Mark

Phoenix, Ariz.—Dallas Long thinks he should break the existing world shot put record this year by at least 3 1/2 feet.

That may sound like a high ambition for an 18-year-old university freshman. But Long has some facts and figures to back up his words.

During an exhibition in Phoenix Saturday night, Long pushed the shot 64 feet 6 inches, bettering Parry O'Brien's world record of 16 inches.

On three other attempts in 6-5, 245-pounder topped the world mark of 63 feet, 2 inches.

Homer Punch, Relief Pitching Help White Sox Capture Third Straight

Three days don't make a club alone at the top of the Washington and the single contest at Kansas City between Cleveland and the Athletics.

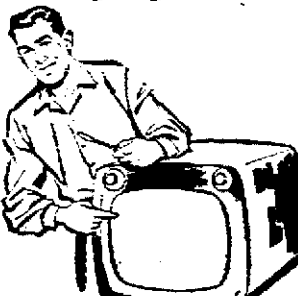

Veteran catcher Storm Lollar shared the hitting honors with first baseman Cash for the White Sox. Back arose in two runs. Cash's homer gave the White Sox six in three games. The 1956 Chicago team hit only 10 all year.

It took fine relief pitching by Arias and Shaw to keep the White Sox undefeated. Detroit

Giants Tip Cards for 3rd Time In Row as Cepeda, Alou Star

Ninth Inning Rally Wins for 'Frisco Again

By The Associated Press

The ninth inning wonders are back in business. It was a year ago that the San Francisco Giants began an intriguing habit of pulling out games in the final inning. Nearly a third of their victories were achieved thus.

The 1959 season is only in its infancy and already the Giants have won two of their three games in the closing frame.

Other Action

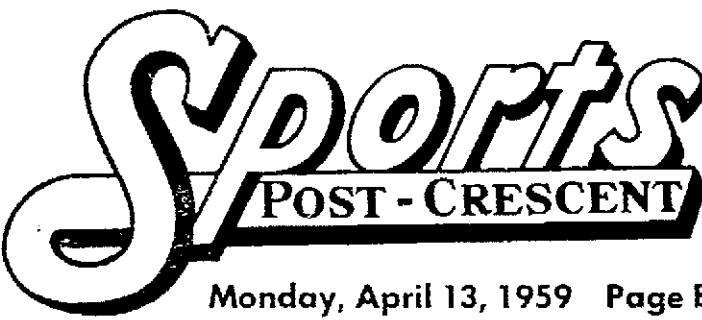

They did it for the second time Sunday, scoring three in the ninth to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals for the third consecutive day. The score was 6-3.

Sunday's triumph moved the Giants a half game in front of the Milwaukee Braves, who won the only two games they have played. Snow prevented the Braves from playing their scheduled game in Pittsburgh.

In the only other league action, Los Angeles defeated Chicago, 5-3. The scheduled doubleheader between the Cincinnati Reds and Phillies in Philadelphia was postponed because of rain.

Spahn Starts In Tuesday's Home Opener

Mantilla to Open At Second Base Against Phillies

Milwaukee — (AP) — Warren Spahn will start for the Milwaukee Braves Tuesday, the first home game of the season for the National league champions.

The team arrived in town Sunday from Pittsburgh where the final game of a 3-game series with the Pirates was postponed because of snow.

Manager Fred Haney said he would keep Felix Mantilla in at second base for the contest with the Philadelphia Phillies instead of having rookie Chuck Cottier make his major league debut.

Win 2 Games

The Braves won the two games played with Pittsburgh by scores of 4-3 and 8-0. The Pirates will be at County stadium on Friday. Saturday and Sunday Wednesday is an open date. Thursday the Phils. Bill Bruton boasts a .444 average, second only to Henry Aaron's powerful .556.

To date, Eddie Mathews has two home runs to his credit and Del Crandall and Aaron one each.

Mickey Vernon, 41-year-old veteran of 18 years in the American league and acquired in a trade Saturday, was expected to join the Braves for a workout today.

Braves Eying Further Deals After Getting Vernon From Indians

Milwaukee Still Could Get Burgess Or FitzGerald

Milwaukee — Manager Fred Haney was home with his Milwaukee Braves today — and rumor has it he is still pounding the trading tom-tom.

We always think about trades," Haney says regularly. "It's one of the best ways to build a better ball club."

Vernon was shifted to the roster of the National League champion Braves from the American League Cleveland Indians on Saturday in an even swap for Milwaukee hurler Humberto Robinson.

The latest name to pop up in his mind in the way of future trades — won't deny that when he left Cincinnati to join the Milwaukee front office that he tried to bring Burgess with him. Pittsburgh, however, beat the Braves to the draw by offering Frank Thomas in contract negotiations.

Burgess is obviously disappointed that all of the Pirate catching duties so far have rested with Hank Foiles.

Wrap It Up

"If I can't catch regularly, I'm gonna wrap it up," Burgess said in Pittsburgh Sunday. "It isn't worth the separation from the family."

Burgess hinted that Pittsburgh would like to have Stan Lopata, whom Milwaukee obtained in a 3-for-3 swap with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Haney called the swap with Philadelphia one of bench strength for bench strength but also said it helped ease Milwaukee's catching problems by having Lopata available to share the receiving chores with Del Crandall and Del Rice.

Lopata has played in only one game with the Braves since the trade and that was an exhibition contest with Detroit. He was hitless in three trips to the plate. Burgess is rated as one of the top pinch-hitters in the National League.

Still causing murmurs are negotiations with the Washington Senators for catcher Eddie Fitzgerald. Tebbetts says the acquisition of Lopata in no way put a stop to plans to eventually having Fitzgerald with Milwaukee.

"All we can do is wait and see what happens," says Haney.

the Cardinals might finally win their first game of the season. They scored three runs in the first against left-hander Mike McCormick on hits by Don Disingame, Gino Cimoli and Ken Boyer plus three Giant errors.

The Giants tied the score with two in the fifth after scoring one in the third. Then, in the ninth with two out, Orlando Cepeda's triple drove in Jim Davenport, who had beat out a bunt to Cardinal pitcher "Vinegar Bend" Mizell. Felipe Alou iced the game with a home run.

Al "Red" Worthington, with two hitless relief innings, was credited with the victory. The Giants now have made 13 extra base hits in three games. The Dodgers, like the Gi-

Eastern Wisconsin Waterfowl Concentration Sites Studied

Madison—A study of waterfowl concentration sites in eastern Wisconsin will be made during a field tour by the waterfowl committee of the Wisconsin Conservation congress, starting from Oshkosh Friday.

Daniel O. Trainer Jr. of Princeton is chairman of the group.

Among the areas to be examined on an aerial tour are the Brillion marsh and the Waukau-Rush Lake district.

Saturday the committee will fly over hunting grounds in the Peshtigo, Oconto and Green Bay districts.

Construction of a parking area at Waukau, one of the popular fishing spots in Winnebago county, has been approved by the state conservation commission.

The area is in the town of Rushford, and annually draws large numbers of sportsmen for the spearing of rough fish during spring spawning migrations.

Madison — The State Conservation commission has authorized a survey and appraisal of some 4,300 acres of land along the Wisconsin river between Minocqua and Rhinelander.

The Wisconsin Valley Improvement company of Wausau has offered to sell the land to the state. Involved are a number of flowages or wide spots in the river, including part of the Rainbow flowage and Pickerel lake. The land, which includes about 36 miles of waterfront, is reportedly worth about $25 an acre.

The area attracts geese and is noted as good deer and ruffed grouse country.

'Campy' Will Participate in LA Inaugural

Los Angeles — A brief but dramatic ceremony spotlighting courageous Roy Campanella will signal the opening of Los Angeles' second year as a major league baseball city.

It will be the Dodgers against the St. Louis Cardinals for the opening game Tuesday night in Memorial Coliseum.

Plans outlined today called for a 30-piece band to play the National Anthem and a 30-man color guard from the Camp Pendleton Marine Base to officiate at the flag raising.

Then Campanella, the Dodgers' famous catcher now semiparalyzed, will be wheeled into view. He will hand a ball to the Dodger pitcher and the game will be on.

Merrill Woman Takes Class B Singles Lead

Kansas City — Shortstop Mike Baxes and outfielder Bob Martyn, both utility men, were traded by the Kansas City Athletics Sunday to the New York Yankees for two rookies.

The A's also sent along an undisclosed amount of cash to get shortstop Tom Carroll, 22, and outfielder Russell Snyder, 24, from Richmond, the Yanks' farm in the International league.

Baxes, 28, started last season as the Athletics' second baseman, but he was used sparingly after a mid-season injury and hit only .212 in 73 games. Martyn, also 28, batted .278 in 95 games.

Carroll had a .259 batting average with Class AAA Denver and .278 with Class AA New Orleans last season. Snyder batted .235 with New Orleans.

Both Baxes and Martyn were assigned by the Yanks to Richmond.

Canadiens Lead, 2-0

Resume Series With Toronto Tuesday Night

Montreal — Confident, but still trying to wring every possible goal from his team, Coach "Toe" Blake of the Montreal Canadiens said today:

"We're certainly going to try to wind up this thing in four games."

And, he added, he might have a surprise in store for the Toronto Maple Leafs in the third game of the Stanley cup finals in Toronto Tuesday.

The Canadiens, already leading, 2-0, in quest of an unprecedented fourth straight cup, may use the injured Jean Beliveau. The big center, who scored 45 goals during the regular season, suffered a spinal injury against the Chicago Black Hawks in the cup semifinal. He has resumed skating, but is in pain.

Montreal won, 3-1, Saturday. The count was tied at 1-all when Claude Provost found the range at 5:02 in the third period to break the tie. He hit the net again at 18:33 for an insurance goal.

The Images of Atoll, right, and Intentionally are reflected and waterlogged Jamaica (New York) track as the horses hit the finish line in the $28,600 Gotham stakes Saturday. Atoll, with Eddie Arcaro aboard, was the winner by three-quarters of a length. Willie Shoemaker, on Intentionally, gave Atoll a torrid duel all the way in the mile and one-sixteenth classic. The time of 1:43 was the fastest ever by 3-year-olds in the event.

Termed Cytology

Cancer Cell Detection Laboratory Opens at Memorial Hospital

Improved detection of cancer in women before they exhibit symptoms is expected to result from a cytology laboratory in Appleton Memorial hospital, according to Dr. James W. Erchul, pathologist at the hospital.

Previously, all cytology (studying body cells to detect cancer) work for the Outagamie area had been referred to the state laboratory in Madison.

Primarily for Women "We expect more local impact and more personal contact between the laboratory and the physician because of the laboratory," Dr. Erchul explains. "It will allow us to correlate our work with local physicians and to help with treatment of patients."

The laboratory will be used primarily to detect uterine cancer, Dr. Erchul said.

"Tests have proved most effective in this area, although they can be used to detect lung cancer, and sometimes kidney and bladder cancer."

"She screens out the negative ones, and marks the suspicious and positive ones for examination by a pathologist," he added. Dr. Erchul and Dr. Pearse Meighan do Appleton's pathology work.

Yearly Examination If a woman exhibits no sign of cancer, how does she know when to ask her doctor to take a uterine smear?

The answer is that "every woman should have a test every one or two years," according to Dr. Erchul. That's why the laboratory becomes so large. One of the nation's larger private clinics processes 35,000 a year. The state laboratory in Madison processes 110 to 120,000 a year.

The magnitude of the project forced the state to decentralize its laboratory. It now has centers in Kenosha, Racine, Milwaukee, Wausau and LaCrosse, in addition to the Madison and Appleton centers.

Time Plays Role Time also plays a big role in the laboratory's work. It takes 15 or 20 minutes to check one slide, Dr. Erchul said.

Miss Holdridge will check all slides sent by physicians to the Appleton lab. To learn her job, she took a special 10-week training course in Madison, qualifying as a cytotechnologist.

Examination of the slides is not as easy as it might seem, she said. She showed a color slide of normal cells—small black dots surrounded by a flesh-colored substance. A slide of cancerous cells revealed enlarged black dots surrounded by a sickly-looking maroon substance.

"I wish they were all that definite," she said. "It's the shades of gray that give us the trouble," she added.

If a slide fails to pass the second check by the pathologist, another test is made. If this test is positive, then treatment begins.

ed to run grave risks in defying government authority for the sake of their aspirations."

After the 1956 Hungarian revolution was suppressed by Soviet might, Journalist Josef Gali and a colleague, Gyula Obersovsky, continued to publish a clandestine newspaper.

According to charges subsequently filed, their paper contained "articles against the government and the U. S. S. R."

The men were sentenced to death, but this was later commuted to life imprisonment for Gali and 15 years for Obersovsky.

Attempts to defy Franco's censorship in Spain have become more frequent and increasingly bolder.

Last year, a cartoonist for the satirical publication "La Codorniz" was sentenced to two months' imprisonment and fined. He had depicted a pair of justice holding a pair of scales—with one of the scales weighed down by a five peso bill.

Doctors Suggest Breathing Into Drowning Victims' Lungs

San Francisco —Your nose or mouth-to-mouth resuscitation best chance for saving a drowning victim's life is to breathe for him.

You can do this by blowing air through his nose or mouth. Deep breaths blown from your lungs into his fill him at once with the oxygen needed to sustain life.

Doctors attending the American Academy of General Practice convention are being instructed in the simple and efficient rescue breathing method, called expired air resuscitation.

The technique was conceived, developed and tested by Dr. James O. Elam, anesthesiologist at Roswell Park Memorial institute at Buffalo, N. Y., and Dr. Peter Safar of Baltimore City hospital.

An institute booth at the convention displays test reaction, and drug or chemical evidence that mouth-to-mouth resuscitation recently was adopted by the U. S. Army and the American Red Cross. It also works in cases of electric shock, smoke or gas inhalation, and drug or chemical poisoning.

Press Continues Under Control in Dictatorships

Zurich, Switzerland —A journalist may risk his life today by reporting the news factually in a totalitarian nation.

A cartoonist may be jailed for his caricature of a government official.

These are some of the "facts of life" newspapermen face in dictatorial regimes, says a study on "The Press in Authoritarian Countries," issued today by the International Press institute.

Some Resist Dictators The study reports a "spirit of revolt against the complete tutelage of the press by the state" is making itself felt in totalitarian nations where some journalists are "preparing to run grave risks in defying government authority for the sake of their aspirations."
